S. Korean Artillery In Action

Organized Enough To Back Infantry, And Tank and Air Units Are Training

SEOUL (AP) — A spokesman for the Korean Military Advisory group (KMAG) today said enough South Korean artillery units have been organized to support all Republic of Korea infantry divisions.

In addition, South Korean tank and air support units are in training.

The spokesman said the artillery units have received preliminary training but have not been assigned to any of the 10 South Korean divisions.

U. S. artillery now supports the ROK infantry. The question of replacing U. S. troops at the front with South Koreans stirred a controversy in the U. S. presidential election campaign

The KMAG spokesman, interviewed by telephone at his headquarters in Taegu, said five South Korean tank units were undergoing advanced training.

The spokesman said there still was a shortage of well-trained senior staff officers in the South Korean army.

South Korean infantry, artillery and other units follow the training schedules of American troops in forming and training their men. That means a total of 10 to 12 months of basic, advanced and field training.

SEOUL (AP)—American Sabre jets and Communist MIG-15s clashed today in four air battles deep in northwest Korea. The fifth Air Force said its airmen shot down one Red jet and damaged four.

In addition, seven more damage claims were pending checks of gun camera film.

The jet battles were the first since Sunday.

The flare-up of air fighting came as ground battles along the 155-mile front tapered off to patrol skirmishes.

Fourteen Sabres tangled with 27 Red warplanes in two morning battles just south of the Yalu River. One MIG was reported destroyed and seven damaged, but three of the gamage claims were withheld for confirmation.

In a pair of afternoon battles, 26 Sabres clashed with more than a score of MIGs. Four MIGs were reported damaged, one positively.

The hard fighting for the frozen hills north of Kumhwa slackened off today after 24 days of almost continuous battle. Battered assault forces retired to rest and regroup.

A company of Chinese Reds—about 175 men — charged up the slopes of Sniper Ridge late Thursday but was cut up by Allied artillery fire.

A front line report said the Reds laid down a 20-minute artillery and mortar barrage before the assault.

The asault lasted only 25 minutes.

The Reds held the crest of nearby Triangle Hill without opposition. Allied leaders ordered the South Koreans to halt their suicide charges up the slope and called instead for intensive artillery barrages.

Elizabeth McLaughlin Returns from Japan

Miss Elizabeth McLaughlin, who has been in Japan in educational therapy with the American Red Cross for the past two years, arrived home Wednesday morning for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McLaughlin, 1301 West Third.

Miss McLaughlin sailed from Japan Oct. 17 and arrived in San Francisco on Oct. 27. In San Francisco she visited her brother, George McLaughlin, before coming on to Sedalia.

How sore can a fellow get? MacArthur still doesn't have a pleasant word for Eisenhower!

—o—

With all due regard to so-called modern safe-flying conditions, many Americans today might feel a lot easier if President-elect Eisenhower would use some other method of transportation rather than airplanes, particularly on the proposed flight to Korea.

Seventeen thousand dollars has been raised for the Community Chest. The goal is $29,600. If it's going to be difficult to raise that amount in Sedalia for the Community Chest, we had better start devising some other means than public subscription to raise $80,000 for a new wing on Bothwell Hospital, unless some philanthropist underwrites the better part of that amount.

You can't fire me. I quit. Presidential army aide Harry Vaughan finally talks sense.

When the people of the community become fire-conscious, what happens—fewer fires. When the people become election-conscious, what happens—fewer peanut politicians.

Bronze Star Presented Local Veteran at Armory Wednesday

The Bronze Star with a letter "V" was presented Wednesday to former army Sergeant Harold W. Bell, 1409 West 11th, for heroic achievement in Korea last year.

The award was presented by Lt. Col. Robert B. Holt, 35th Infantry Division instructor, at a formation of Battery C, 128th Field Artillery Battalion, Missouri National Guard, at the Armory.

Bell, then a corporal, was serving with Company E, 31st Infantry Regiment, 7th Infantry Division, near Hundon-ni when the incident occurred on Oct. 1 and 2, 1951, for which he was decorated.

According to the citation, Bell was with a platoon located about 1000 yards in front of the battalion line. At dusk, a forward observer and a radio operator were sent to a forward outpost 650 yards ahead. Bell and another rifleman volunteered to accompany them to provide covering fire and protection.

On their way to the outpost, they were subjected to a sudden volley of enemy fire. Rushing for cover, Bell began returning the fire. Accurate mortar fire, directed by the forward observer, forced the enemy to withdraw.

Although a platoon of reinforcements soon arrived, Bell refused to leave and continued through the night to provide protection to the forward outpost. The citation stated he was primarily responsible for the security of the outpost and its defense against the continued probing attacks of the enemy.

Bell was inducted into the army on Nov. 8, 1950 and was separated last August.

Armistice Day Parade Here Next Tuesday

Tuesday, Nov. 11, is Armistice Day, and a big parade will be held in the downtown section of Sedalia at 10 a.m. It will end at the Courthouse where the Rev. Walter P. Arnold, pastor of the East Sedalia Bapitist Church, will give the address.

The parade will start at Ninth and Ohio and go north on Ohio to Main, east on Main to Lamine, south on Lamine to Fifth and west on Fifth to the Courthouse.

Ralph Baker, in charge of the Armistice Day program, announces that to date scheduled to be in the parade are the two high school bands, Smith-Cotton and Hubbard, the two American Legion Posts, the two Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts, the auxiliaries of both the American Legion and Veterans of Foreign Wars in Sedalia, several American Legion Posts from over the county, the Cooties and Lady Bugs, the American War Dads, the National Guard, the Boy Scouts, the Girl Scouts, saddle clubs from Sedalia, Kirksville, Cameron, Bunceton and Otterville, the automobile dealers and the implement dealers.

Other organizations and saddle clubs may also participate, but have not yet informed Mr. Baker of their plans.

The Courthouse, City Hall and banks will all close for the day.

The retail merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce announces that firms may do as they like in closing. If they want to close they may and if they don't they may remain open. However, all firms are asked to cooperate and let any veterans or others off who want to take part in the parade. They also ask each firm to have at least one member of their organization at the Armistice Day program at the Courthouse.

Missouri Stays With Winner, Supports Ike

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A sweeping preference of Dwight D. Eisenhower fought off stubborn Democratic power in Missouri's two largest cities to again put the state on the winning presidential side in Tuesday's election.

With all but 53 of the state's 4,771 precincts reported, Eisenhower had a 905,573 total. Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, unsuccessful Democratic nominee, had 883,072 in President Truman's home state.

That margin, although small, put Missouri on the side of the national winner for the 13th consecutive time. Not since 1900 have Missouri voters picked a loser.

The margin, however, was narrow enough to be changed by an estimated 35,000 to 40,000 absentee ballots. Stevenson still could be the Missouri winner.

But while Eisenhower held the regular vote lead, his was the only Republican victory in Missouri in the three leading contests.

Stuart Symington, a Democratic newcomer among office holders, defeated Republican incumbent James P. Kem for President Truman's old U. S. Senate seat.

In the gubernatorial contest Democrat Phil M. Donnelly returned to the executive's office he held from 1945-49 by defeating Republican Howard Elliott. Democrats also retained control of minor state offices and of the State Senate.

The outcome of contests to the state house of representatives probably won't be known for several days.

Three More 100 Pct. For Community Chest

Three more Sedalia organizations have subscribed 100 per cent to the Community Chest fund drive.

They are: Town and Country Shoes, Inc.; Arthur J. Morgan, Acct.; and the faculty and employees of the Sedalia public schools.

Ike Starts Vacation InGeorgia

Resting, With Golf And Fishing, Taking Up Most of His Time During Brief Holiday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower began a 10-day vacation today with a date for golf—a very late date.

The President-elect put aside for a moment numerous pressing problems. His plans for the day included nothing but an afternoon round of golf at the National Golf Club, where he is staying, and his schedule so far embraces more of the same plus some fishing and the complete rest he has not known in months.

Eisenhower flew here from New York yesterday afternoon.

Two communications from President Truman were addressed to him and he replied immediately to one of them. Aides said he is drafting an answer to the second.

Truman proposed an early discussion at the White House on the problem of world peace. In the earlier message he reminded Eisenhower that the next national budget is being prepared and suggested that Eisenhower have "a representative confer with the director of the budget.

The general replied before leaving New York: "I shall try to arrange within the next two or three days to have a personal representative to sit with the director."

He gave no indication of the man he may choose for that assignment.

There has been some speculation that he might ask his friend Lewis Douglas of Arizona to represent him. Douglas formerly served as director of the budget. He also served a term as ambassador to Great Britain.

Eisenhower's aides were silent on the President's second proposal for a discussion of peace problems. There was no indication in Truman's statements about specific aspects of the question that might be examined.

Eisenhowers' personal idea for a beginning is to go to Korea himself to study the situation there and search for a solution.

He put this in the form of a pledge during his campaign and repeated it several times. He told Truman yesterday that he intends to notify "the secretary of defense the earliest possible notice of my proposed date of depature."

Meanwhile, the general is simply taking it easy.

He has Mamie with him at the golf club. His daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower and her three children, Dwight, David, 4, Barbara Anne, 3, and Susan, 9 months, and Mrs. J. S. Doud, his mother-in-law, are also there.

There are some new members of his entourage, too.

Secret Service agents who are now charged with responsibility for his safety moved in on the golf course before Eisenhower and his family even arrived. Other agents were on hand in New York almost as soon as his election was confirmed. Some rode with him on the flight to Georgia.

The agents are seldom obviously around — until you try to pass through ehtgates of the clubhouse grounds.

Eisenhower's arrival in Augusta was a carbon copy of the hundreds of appearances he made while he was fighting for the presidency. About 1,500 persons were at the airport and they gave him a warm cheer when he appeared in the door of the plane.

An old friend, Brig. Gen. Frank Allen, was waiting at the bottom of the ramp. Allen served as Eisenhower's chief of public relations in Europe in the closing months of World War II.

Eisenhower shook hands all around with the same warmth he showed during the campaign, waved to the crowd, and went immediately to the motorcade waiting to take him to the golf club.

Harriman Going Home

WASHINGTON (AP) — W. Averell Harriman, mutual security director, said today he plans to return to his New York home when the Eisenhower administration takes over Jan. 20.

Elections At-a-Glance

Fire Causes Big Loss On Summers Farm

Approximately 10 to 12 thousand dollars loss was caused by the fire at the Summers brothers' farm at Beaman Wednesday, according to Hubert Summers. All damage is covered by insurance, he said.

A hay barn and a machine and tool shed were completely destroyed by the blaze which started in the tool shed shortly after 12:30 p.m. Mrs. Summers, who owns the property, telephoned the Sedalia fire department which sent its water pump trailer to the scene. Water was pumped to the fire from a pond there.

In the barn were about 2,500 bales of hay and 1,500 bushels of corn, Summers said. They went up in flame when sparks from the fire in the machine shop were carried by the wind to the open-sided barn. The machinery and tools in the shed were a complete loss.

The fire also threatened a milk shed nearby, but it was soaked with water and suffered little damage.

Mrs. Summers narrowly escaped injury when her car overturned as she was driving for help. She looked back to see the fire and the car slid on some loose gravel. It tipped over on one side, slid, turned over on the roof and slid again, and came to a stop on the other side. Mrs. Summers was only slightly scratched. The body of the car was totally damaged at an estimated loss of $700 to $800, Hubert Summers said.

The fire spread to a corn field and, if unchecked, could have spread throughout the whole Beaman area, since there are few roads in the vicinity to hinder it.

The field fire was soon controlled by the fire department and many negihbors who volunteered their help. The barn fire was put out at 9 p.m. and several neighbors offered to keep watch during the night. Fire broke out again in the barn at 11 p.m. but was soon extinguished.

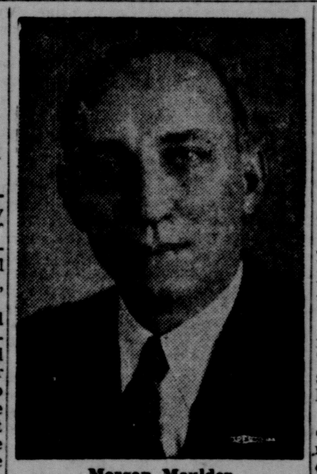
Postal System History Given For Kiwanians

A talk on the development of the United States postal system was given by Assistant Postmaster Guy L. Johnston before the Sedalia Kiwanis Club meeting in Bothwell Hotel Thursday noon.

The speaker, who was introduced by J. G. Crawford, program chairman, told about the establishment of post roads in 500 B. C. for the delivery of messages, and reviewed the development of the U.S. postal system which today has 45,000 postoffices employing 400,000 persons. Mr. Johnston answered many questions of the Kiwanians who showed considerable interest in his talk.

Lieutenant Governor Roger Meyer, Versailles, made a short talk and presented to Past President T. H. Yount a certificate from Kiwanis International in recognition of his leadership as president of the local club.

Guests were James Leeders, with W. L. Savage; and Postmaster Maurice Hogan with Mr. Crawford.



Morgan Moulder

Moulder Leads In Congress Race by 554

ST. LOUIS (AP) —With all of the regular vote tabulated, Rep. Morgan Moulder, the Democratic incumbent, held a 554-vote margin over former Rep. Max Schwabe, Republican, today in their close contest in the 11th congressional district of Central Missouri but the outcome remained in doubt.

The winner will be decided by tomorrow's count of absentee ballots in the district's 17 counties.

Complete unofficial returns from the regular vote in the district's 446 precincts gave Moulder 69,503 votes Schwabe 69,249.

Moulder of Camdenton, and Schwabe, who lives at Columbia, have tangled before. Schwabe served three terms in the House but was defeated by Moulder in 1948 and again in 1950.

The vote by counties:

SAFB Housing Address Here Monday Noon

On Monday noon, Robert H. Richards, assistant secretary of the air force, in charge of family housing at the Pentagon, Washington, D. C., will be the speaker at the luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, which will be held jointly with the Rotary Club in the Ambassador Room of the Bothwell Hotel.

The meeting is open to anyone interested in housing problems of this area, and business men, those in the building trade of the community and all civic club members are asked to be present to hear Mr. Richards.

Mr. Richards will have with him Col. McCord, chief of the family housing group at the Pentagon.

Mayors, Chamber of Commerce officers, city officials and others from surrounding towns are invited by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce to attend.

Public Schools Give More to Chest Fund: Goal Not Yet In Sight

The Sedalia Public Schools have bettered their 1951 contributions to the Community Chest by more than $300, contributing a total of $852.39.

The larger part, $692.40, of this sum came from teachers and employees, who overaged $3.91 each. Community Chest Chairman W. A. Smith expressed great satisfaction at the generous support on the part of the school teachers of Smith-Cotton High School, Hubbard School and all the grade schools of the city.

Chest contributions to date total $17,159.

Windsor Jct. Fire Burns On 130 Acres

A grass fire that threatened several homes, barns and other buildings on farms at Windsor Junction, south of Sedalia where Highways 65 and 52 intersect, was fought Wednesday afternoon by an estimted 250 to 300 persons.

Some of them reportedly came from distances of up to 10 miles. The fire was believed to have started from a carelessly thrown lighted cigarette about 12:30 p.m.

The blaze, fanned by wind, covered an area of 130 acres or more, sweeping eastward carrying devastation in its path. It burned posts of fences and even consumed a stretch of green hedge fence that failed to withstand the fire and intense heat it produced.

Several buildings in the path of the blaze were saved through foresight of an obliging farmer who rushed to the scene with tractor and plow and plowed furrows about them. Volunteer firefighters helped check its ravages.

Another appeared with a tractor and trailer with two barrels of water and a spray pump which was brought into action at spots where the flames were most threatening.

The fire by mid-afternoon had been extinguished and was fully smothered by 4 p.m.

E. C. Mein, residing about a mile east of Highway 65 on Highway 52, lost two shocks of corn and some fodder in the fire.

Boyd Dump Home At Cole Camp Burns Thursday

The Boyd Dump residence, on the southeast edge of Cole Camp, was destroyed by fire shortly after 9 a.m. Thursday. The losses were estimated at $15,000.

The fire was discovered in the upstairs part of the two-story residence and by the time firemen arrived from Cole Camp, the fire had broken through the roof.

Volunteers immediately began saving as much furniture as possible and it was reported everything on the first floor was carried to safety while all of the furniture, much clothing and other articles on the second floor were destroyed.

Cole Camp's new pumper truck went to the scene with volunteers, but water was too far away so the truck could not be used, but the volunteers joined others in saving contents of the home.

Cecil Dump, 1114 West Seventh, is a son of the Dumps and he went to Cole Camp immediately upon learning of the fire.

Skelgas to Build Bottling, Storage Plant In Sedalia

Skelgas Division of Skelly Oil Company is constructing a Skelgas bottling plant and bulk storage plant at 24th and Clinton Road, Sedalia.

D. M. Billingsley, the Skelgas supervisor in charge of Skelgas sales in southwest Missouri says, "The plant is being biult to take care of greatly expanded Skelgas sales in the Sedalia trading area during the past five years."

The plant will fill the cylinders and take care of the bulk requirements of surrounding dealers. Approximately 25 to 30 dealers and several thousand customers will be served from this plant.

The local Skelgas distributor is Barr Bros. Hardware of Sedalia. Two Skelgas fieldmen, the district salesman, W. H. Woodcock, and special representative Howard D. Hooper, live in Sedalia. Building a bottling plant here will provide employment for one or two additional men immediately upon its completion and others later.

More Schools Report Funds for Chest

The reports of two more schools have been turned in to the Community Chest Fund.

From Smith-Cotton High School faculty, $257.50; students, $36.65; and cafeteria, $10. Jefferson School, faculty, $24.

Military Will Take IkeAcross

President-Elect Declines Truman's Offer to Use White House Plane on Trip

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower turned today to the military to take him on his projected journey to the Korean War zone, politely declining President Truman's offer of the White House plane.

Eisenhower replied immediately after receiving Truman's somewhat laconic offer to put the luxurious, four-engined Independence at his disposal, "if you still desire to go to Korea."

The President-elect said any suitable military plane would do and that he would notify the Defense Department soon of his plans.

There was no immediate explanation why Truman attached the "if you still desire to go" qualification to his offer. But Eisenhower's reply was definite assurance that he will go through with his campaign pledge. He said in an address on Oct. 24, "I shall go to Korea" to seek a way to an honorable conclusion of the war.

Defense Secretary Robert Lovett, Gen. Omar Bradley and other high officials of the Pentagon already have shaped tentative plans to take Eisenhower on his Korean journey

The probability is the military will assign an officer to accompany him, if that is agreeable to Eisenhower. Although the officer probably will be of high rank, there was an impression that it will not be Bradley.

Although Eisenhower has been one of the nation's most famous soldiers, he no longer holds his five-star commission or any other direct connection with the Army. When he goes to Korea, presumably well before the inauguration on Jan. 20, he will be a private citizen—no longer a general and not yet the commander-in-chief.

In Korea, Eisenhower will come to grips with the first and perhaps most difficult question of his presidential term:

What to do about an unpopular war almost 28 months old, stalled on a heavily defended front, fought against an enemy with major supply sources outside the theater of combat, and supported by Russia, the potential major and powerful enemy of the United States?

Eisenhower, in his campaigning, made one proposal: assign an increasing amount of the front-line fighting to troops of the South Koreans.

Beyond this, there exists an old and explosive question which figured in the controversy over the ousting of Gen. Douglas MacArthur from the Far East supreme command:

Should the United States turn to true strategic warfare in an attempt to destroy the Asiatic Communists war - waging ability and bomb supply centers and airfields in the Chinese homeland?

Truman and the State Department rebuffed any such thought, and the Joint Chiefs of Staff subsequently followed that up with explanations of the military impracticality of such an operation. However, the administration goes out of office next January and the terms of all but one member of the JCS expires next summer.

With the White House occupied by the general who in World War II commanded more troops than any other American in history, the military has no doubt that the office of commander in chief will be a more directly active one than it has been in a long time — if ever.

Burning Trailer Sets Fire to Farm Field

COLUMBIA (AP) — A motorist who was unaware that his trailer, loaded with household goods was ablaze started a fire that burned over a 40-acre soybean-lespedeza field at Midway, eight miles west of Columbia on Highway 40 about noon today.

Sparks from the burning trailer started the farm blaze and flames, whipped by strong winds, quickly spread. Two hundred volunteer fire-fighters brought it under control.

Speaker at C. of C. Banquet Spurs Sedalians To Join Hands For Greater Things In City

A talk that was an inspiration to men and women of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce to do greater things was given Wednesday night at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet by Dwight Havens, commercial organization department manager of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, Washington, D. C.

"This is America," said Mr. Havens, "Sedalia, USA, your own home town and all of the other home towns in America." The Chamber of Commerce, he said, seeks to improve and to build, and this is the source of strength in America. It is the power of leadership that has brought the growth of this country from the time of the landing of the Pilgrims to the strength, the freedom and the high standard of living we have today, he told his audience. It is the highest standard of living in the world.

Our stock in trade, Mr. Havens said, is our people. Knowledge and understanding is what constitutes the American way and it is developing the right kind of leadership that brings success. The United States Chamber of Commerce, he pointed out, can be no stronger than the Chamber of Commerce of this town.

First, he said, there must be an honest, fearless study of the real needs of the community and, second, the channeling of all resources to achieve that need.

Success, he said, is to know where you are going and you must know what your needs are. Once you find the common problems you will find men and women of your town are anxious to match wits on those problems. People want to be a part of the show, he said. The way to get the job done is to join hands and do it.

Mr. Havens spoke of the divine leadership and said he wished that he could be a leader like that. Leadership is power of strength, the power with which things are accomplished, he said.

He praised the work of the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, the president, Jack Cunningham, the executive manager, Chester A. Brown and the membership as a whole in their accomplishments of the past year.

Urging the 475 people present to get in and work for their home town Mr. Havens concluded his talk with "What you do for yourselves dies with you. What you do for your community lives forever."

The banquet, which was held at the Smith-Cotton High School cafeteria, was preceded by dinner music by Mrs. Ann Marquess, Miss Shirley Kirkpatrick and Charles Walch.

The meeting opened with the singing of "America" followed by invocation by the Rev. A. J. Brun-

Gloria Goldsmith Becomes Bride At Springfield

Miss Gloria Rabe Goldsmith and Mr. Charles Edward Eagleburger were united in marriage at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, Sunday, October 19, at St. John's Episcopal Church in Springfield, by the Rev. H. B. Whitehead.

Miss Goldsmith is the daughter of Mrs. C. A. Davis, Springfield and a granddaughter of A. W. Goldsmith, Sedalia. She made her home with her grandparents until November 1951. She is a niece of Mrs. Bob Kahrs and Ernest Goldsmith, both of Sedalia. Mr. Eagleburger is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Eagleburger of Fairgrove, Mo.

For her wedding the bride wore a ballerina length two piece gown of pink satin and lace over taffeta. Her accessories were navy blue and she carried a single white orchid atop her prayer book.

The maid of honor, Miss Mary Ann Armstrong, was attired in an aqua taffeta dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mr. A. Eagleburger served his brother as bestman.

Mrs. Davis, mother of the bride wore a brown suit with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. Mrs. Bob Kahrs, aunt of the bride, Sedalia, and the bride's mother served the cake and punch to the guests.

After a short trip the couple will be at home at 909 South Avenue, Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kahrs and son, Jeffrey, Mr. A. W. Goldsmith and Mrs. D. P. Goldsmith, great-aunt of the bride, all of Sedalia attended the wedding.

World Community Day Observance Here On Friday

The World Community Day observance, sponsored by the Sedalia Council of Church Women, will be held Friday at the Congregational - Presbyterian Federated Church at 2 p.m.

"Christian Foundations for Lasting Peace" will be discussed by a panel of church women with the following participating: Mrs. William Lamm, Mrs. Luther Landis, Mrs. Charles Alden, Mrs. J. C. Jackson Jr., and Mrs. Lee Soxman.

A worship service, on the theme "Building Lasting Peace," will be led by Mrs. Roy Bowers. Mrs. Harry Hopkins will lead the singing of the spiritual, "Lord, I Want to Be a Christian." Mrs. Raymond Marcks will sing a solo, "How Beautiful Upon the Mountains."

The offering, which will be used by the United Church Women for education for peace and for vitamins and medicine for desitute children, will be in charge of Mrs. E. D. Sutherlin. Mrs. Charles Maggard will sing a solo.

"Packets for Peace" will be brought to the altar by representatives of the church groups.

The benediction will be given by Mrs. Senior Major O. C. Aaserude.

4-H'ers Draw Names For Christmas Gifts

Welcome Inn 4-H Club held its monthly meeting Nov. 9 at the home of Beulah Harvey.

Roll call was answered with "what I want for Christmas". Mrs. Guy Rumsey and Frances Wagner were appointed to prepare this basket. A turkey supper will be held Nov. 26 at the home of Claude Rayl. Mrs. Jesse Revis, Mrs. John Gray and Mrs. Ed Dirck were appointed to plan the menu.

Names were drawn for Christmas. The following demonstrations were given: Health, Dorothy Gray and Joy Rumsey; artificial respiration, Billy Gray and Bob Harvey.

Refreshments were enjoyed during the social hour.

Masquerade Party At Davis Home

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Davis, Loyce and Galen, were hosts at a masquerade party at their home, southeast of Lincoln, Friday night.

Their large garage was decorated with orange and black streamers, bittersweet and pumpkins. The contributive supper was served from a long table which was centered with a horn of plenty.

Each masked guest had a number pinned on them as they entered and ones being recognized by the least number of guests were given a prize. Mrs. Lawton Swearngin received the prize for the ladies and the men's prize went to Ward Glenn.

After unmasking the hostess assisted by Mrs. Chester Davis led the group in playing several games.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. George Candless, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. McCartney, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Chaney, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde McCubbin, Mr. and Mrs. Lawton Swearngin, Donnie and Dickie, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor and Sue, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Swearngin, Bruce and Lance, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Chance and Stevie, Mr. and Mrs. Howard McCarthey and Linda Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Higgins and John Phillip, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Davis.

Missouri's State Senate Stays Democratic by 19-15

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Missouri's normally Democratic State Senate stayed that way in Tuesday's general election. But Republicans, by grabbing two new seats, narrowed the Democratic advantage to a 19-15 margin.

The two seats lost by the Democrats were in the 17th and 31st districts. There Republicans Clayton W. Allen of Rockport and Allen Bowsher of Clinton ousted two freshman incumbents.

Allen polled 35,269 votes to 33,353 for Democrat John Hoshor of Savannah in the 17th with only two of 186 precincts unreported. In the 31st Bowsher had 30,293 to Sen. A. Ives Reid's 2,5172 with but one of 187 precincts uncounted.

Elsewhere the Democrats swept through, winning 12 of the 17 seats up for election.

St. Louis and Kansas City (Jackson County) returned their six Democratic senators in a show of usual party strength. From the Fifth District, St. Louis Democrat Michael Kinney, a 40-year veteran of the Senate, was a near two-to-one choice over Republican Herman H. Novack.

One special election Tuesday named Charles Dickson, Milan Republican, to complete the unexpired term of the late Frank M. Frisby, Bethany Republican, in the old 14th Dickson's 22,393 votes meant a substantial victory over Ruby Pearl Barger, Albany Democrat who polled 13,010 with one precinct missing in the present 12th district.

Other State Senate results:

1st District, Robert Pentland (D-inc) 33,988, George P. Utter (R) 32,166. (St. Louis)

3rd District, William E. Hilsman (D-inc) 33,899, Ross C. H. Hallock (R) 17,329. (St. Louis)

7th District, Edward J. Hogan, Jr. (D-inc) 35,469, William D. Montgomery (R) 21,254. (St. Louis)

9th District, 134 of 141, Edgar J. Keating (D-inc) 36,163, defeated R. H. Moore (R) 24,169, (Kansas City)

11th District, Frank Lee Wilkinson (D) 36,257, defeated Richard W. Byrne (R) 19,035, (Kansas City)

13th District, Hartwell G. Grain (R-inc) 39,047, W. Earl Jacobs (D) 31,513 (St. Louis county)

15th District, E. Gary Davidson (R) 32,949, William C. Schramm (D) 26,829 (St. Louis County)

19th District, George A. Spencer (D), Columbia, unopposed.

21st District, Edward V. Long, (D), Columbia, unopposed.

23rd District, John W. Noble (D) Kennett, unopposed.

25 District, J. F. Patterson (D), Caruthersville, unopposed.

27th District, Albert M. Spradling, Jr., (D-inc), Cape Girardeau, 17,125, Tom Brown (R), Charleston, 12,404.

29th District, Noel Cox (R), Spokane, unopposed.

Ike's Election Raises Hopes of Polish Exiles

LONDON (AP)—Lieut. Gen. Wladyslaw Anders, wartime commander of Free Polish forces under Eisenhower, said today the general's election as President of the United States raised hopes among Polish exiles "that the day of liberation of their country is near."

Anders cabled the American President-elect congratulations and the hope that his election "will also mean victory for the Polish cause."

Eight Congress Seats Still Not Fully Decided

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eight congressional contests remained undecided today of the 435 seats at stake in Tuesday's election.

The outcome of two governorship races—in Michigan and Montana—also was in doubt.

Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams was on top in latest returns from Michigan's see-sawing vote count. Virtually complete returns gave him a 3,948 vote edge over Republican Fred M. Alger, Jr. A recount might be necessary to decide the race definitely.

Republican J. Hugo Aronson appeared to have ousted Democratic Gov. John W. Bonner from office in Montana. On the basis of returns from all but 42 of 1,137 precincts, Aronson had 129,702 votes, Bonner 124,795.

Republicans cinched control of the U.S. House of Representatives by winning 220 seats, assuring a GOP majority of at least two. Democrats captured 206 seats and an independent one.

Democrats were leading in all undecided races. They included:

Missouri: Democratic Rep. Morgan M. Moulder had 68,806, Republican Max Schwabe 67,444 in returns from 441 of 446 precincts in the 11th district. The final result awaits an absentee ballot count Friday.

Nobel Prize For Literature To Frenchman

STOCKHOLM (AP) — The Royal Swedish Academy today awarded the 1952 Nobel prize for literature to French novelist Francois Mauriac, a leading contemporary Catholic author.

Mauriac, 67, and internationally known for such novels as "The Desert of Love" and "Vipers' Tangle," also is a poet, playwright, essayist, biographer and contributor to newspapers. He will receive 171,134 Swedish crowns ($33,037) from King Gustav Adolf at the Nobel prize presentation ceremony to be held here Dec. 10.

The 1952 prizes for physics and chemistry were scheduled to be announced later today, completing this years' list of honors bestowed under the will of Alfred Nobel, Swedish inventor of dynamite, which established the $9,000,000 foundation which pays the prizes.

Mauriac is the eighth French writer to win the literature prize since the creation of the Nobel foundation in 1901. He is considered an outstanding interpreter of human psychology.

Mauriac once commented: "A novel is worthless if it doesn't contain a study of man, and it has no reason for being if it doesn't add to our knowledge of the human heart."

The academy selected the French winner from among more than 40 candidates, including Britis Prime Minister Winston Churchill, Italian philosopher Benedetto Croce and French novelist Albert Camus.

America's New First Lady

Mamie Eisenhower's Had as Good Preparation for Job as Anyone Can Get

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — What manner of woman is the nation's new First Lady?

One thing is sure. Whatever Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower was, did, liked or disliked before, it's going to be a lot different for her for the next four years at least.

Mamie Eisenhower has probably had as good a preparation for the job as any one woman can get. But it happens that being First Lady of the Land involves a combination of responsibilities and duties for which there is only one adequate training course: the job itself.

Caesar's wife had it easy by comparison. Cornelia's job description didn't specify keeping above suspicion in an age of television, gossip columnists, women's magazines, the League of Women Voters and the New York Dress Institute which takes it upon itself to select the country's ten best dressed women. A woman in high position today can come under suspicion if her dress happens to be a half-inch longer than yesterday's accepted length.

Today's First Lady is expected to be the living symbol of motherhood and wifehood to all the Camp Fire Girls, Girl Scouts, Brownies and Job's Daughters. Yet about noon each day she must also become the leading hostess or most honored guest in a town which has the fastest party pace in the country.

It's not easy to be your sweet same self under these conditions. Take everything that's been written about Mamie—and there has been plenty—and you can start from there guessing as to what kind of a First Lady she will be.

For instance, Mrs. Eisenhower abhors the thought of making a public speech. When it comes to facing a crowd, smiling, waving and saying helio, she's the best. But the longest actual speech she has ever made contained 20 words.

For better or for worse the First Lady has to make some public speeches — without her husband at her side. Mrs. Truman probably abhorred the idea more than Mamie does now. But Mrs. Truman, with all her Missouri independence and distaste for the public platform, quickly had to hire herself a public speaking teacher and learn the rudimentary tricks of the trade.

Mrs. Ike has always claimed that her principal hobby is taking care of Ike—to the extent, it has been reported, of buying his clothes. That's something Mrs. Truman said she did, too.

Unfortunately, the President of the United States is well insulated against a devoted, helping wife by Secret Service men, staff physicians, personal secretaries, aides, assistants and a fantastic burden of work.

The answer? The First Lady finds herself another main hobby.

Stated hobbies two, three and four for Mamie are lying in bed reading mystery books, shopping around town for bargains and redecorating.

The simple administrative chores of running the White House preclude the time for reading in bed. They will also probably cut into her favorite habit of a leisurely breakfast of fruit juice, toast and coffee followed by reading the papers and writing her letters — all in bed.

Bargain hunting, another of Mrs. Truman's pre-First Lady favorites, is denied the President's wife. Haggling over the price of a bit of feminine finery is robbed of its charm with two Secret Service men and a fast - growing crowd of rubbernecks monitoring the transaction.

That leaves redecorating. But the only trouble there is that it's against the law to do any redecorating in the White House without having nearly every idea approved first through channels by the Commission of Fine Arts.

So the First Lady can't have a hobby. But isn't there any fun being the wife of the most important man in the world? The answer to that is yes, if what you call fun happens to coincide with the rigid dictates of the job, like it did for Mrs. Roosevelt, for instance.

MAMIE AND IKE: She's always claimed her principal hobby is taking care of her husband. She'll have lots of help now.

Fortunately for Mamie Eisenhower, and in spite of the above mentioned somewhat unpleasant adjustments she is going to have to make in her new life, she has real talent for, and takes great pleasure in, much of the routine which will be hers at least until 1956 if she and Ike survive the strain.

Basically, Mrs. Ike is a gregarious person. She loves being surrounded by good friends. She enjoys meeting new people. She sparkles and enthuses in the middle of a gay throng. Small chit-chat and exchanging the latest gags with the girls can keep her enchanted for hours. She loves long afternoons of bridge and canasta.

White House protocol will limit and take some of the gay edge off of those activities for Mamie. She admits complete ignorance of "heavy" subjects like economics or politics. And a good share of White House company will be persons who seek a more intellectual brand of conversation.

Also, a First Lady is so busy she has to devote less time to real old friends than to visiting delegates from the Federation of Women's Clubs, for example.

But Mamie has proved on many Army posts, as well as in Washington and Paris, that she can take those adjustments in her social life in stride, still keep the affection and loyalty of her old friends, and continue to enjoy life.

The real key to the true personality of the new First Lady is the fact that she has been the wife of a career Army officer, say those who have been close to Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower.

Today it's popular on the part of Mamie's more casual friends to claim that she has emerged from Ike's campaign with a brand new personality. They say that they never thought (1) that she was physically strong enough to take the rigorous effort in stride, and (2) that she would take to the limelight the way she has. They are announcing a new-found Mamie.

Her really intimate friends don't see it quite that w... They agree that they are terribly relieved that she has been able to stand up so well physically under the strain. As one puts it:

"Let's hope that Ike's campaign proves once and for all to the gossips that Mamie isn't frail and that she can be a real First Lady with the best of them."

Like almost every American wife with a husband overseas, the war proved to be a great physical and emotional strain in Mamie's life. Before the war she had developed a non - critical heart murmur, which only prohibited such things as running upstairs and violent outdoor activity. But this tended to confine her to her apartment in the Wardman Park Hotel in Washington where she put in endless hours of mahjong.

Had she wanted to tap the gay honors of Washington's war-wild social life she could have had the town at her feet. Plenty of wives of other important officers overseas yielded to this exciting alternative.

She lost weight, began suffering from the same headaches which bothered her during much of the GOP convention, and did her best to fight boredom and frustration. At the end of the war her health really broke. A case of pneumonia which was near - fatal kept her in bed for a long time.

That she is now completely recovered from her war ordeal can be testified to by millions of Americans who were charmed and delighted during the campaign by her vicacious and warm personality.

But this is not a new Mamie, her oldest friends claim. And they repeat that to know and really understand Mamie you've got to understand what it takes to be the wife of a successful Army officer.

Mamie dresses stylishly but rather conservatively, avoiding outlandish and ultra - modern styles. It wasn't until she was leaving Paris that she was induced to buy a few Paris gowns and hats.

That's just the way the wife of an Army officer learns to dress. You get a little extreme and the tongue wagging starts. You sport a new fur coat followed too quickly by a couple of new hats and the eyebrows go up. All your friends know to the penny just what your husband's pay is.

An Army officer's income isn't much and you've got to learn to pinch a quarter and scrimp on food. This takes any joy out of cooking and Mamie doesn't give a hang about it today. But it makes you a thrifty shopper and good home manager. Mamie is that.

The wife of a promising young officer learns how to get along with the other wives on the post who wear their husband's ranks with more arrogance or subservience than do their spouses. She learns how to rise to the occassion of a sudden visit from the commanding officer and his family. She learns that twisted idle gossip or one social slip can hold up her husband's promoion.

Mamie knows how to get along with other women, regardless of their husband's rank or position. She has proved many times to be up to almost any social emergency.

In 1945 in Washington she was suddenly called upon to take over all of the details of a 500-person reception for visiting Field Marshall Montgomery when Ike and his staff were suddenly called out of town. She handled the whole thing beautifully, just as she was perfectly comfortable at the celebrity - studded affairs in Paris while Ike was NATO chief.

If she has a phobia it's irritation over malicious or idle gossip. It all adds up to a social surefootedness which is now instinctive.

By any standard Mamie is feminine, pretty and attractive. Five-feet, three-inches tall, weighing 128 pounds, she wears a size 14 dress. Her ankles are as trim as her figure. Her famed bangs are worn because of a high forehead. They have become a pleasant fixture above her pretty face. Her excellent coloring — which unfortunately doesn't show up in black and white photos—is probably her outstanding feature.

The betting is that Mamie is going to make a highly popular First Lady.

There are 1,728 miles of railroads within the boundaries of Massachusetts; 1,828 in Maine.

MAMIE AND FAMILY: Half a dozen of the Eisenhower family have a private "caucus." The grownups, left to right, are Mamie; Mrs. John Doud, her mother, and Mrs. Percy Thompson, mother-in-law of the Eisenhowers' son. The youngsters are Eisenhower grandchildren—Susan, 10 months; David, 4, and Barbara Ann, 3.

MAMIE AND HOBBY: Shopping for bargains has been another of Mrs. Eisenhower's hobbies. Here she looks at hats in a Washington store, but now her shopping will be curtailed by her new job.

Harold Rucker To New Position With Phone Co.

Harold Rucker, former Sedalian, commercial manager of the Ozark Central Telephone Company, has been named by the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company as its new Springfield manager, effective Nov. 1.

Rucker, a native Sedalian, is 31 years old and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis W. Rucker, 910 South Grand. He is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School and of Central Missouri State College in Warrensburg. He was graduated from CMSC the year World War II was declared and went right into service, receiving his discharge at Christmas 1945. He came back to Sedalia where he entered the employe of the telephone company and was here about a year and a half. He was then sent to Joplin and was later transferred to St. Louis, where he has been the past year and a half.

Mr. Rucker is married and has two children, Larry, seven years old and Linda, three and a half. He expects to move to Springfield shortly to assume his new duties.

Three Fatally Burned As Fire Razes Home

FESTUS, Mo. (AP)—Two children and their grandmother died today when fire engulfed the home of George Leonard at Bluff City, one mile northwest of Festus and about 35 miles south of St. Louis.

The dead were Sharon Leonard, 5, her brother, Gary Ray Leonard, 7, and Mrs. Versa Anderson, Mrs. Anderson, 61, lived at Corning, Ark., and was visiting in the home.

The mother of the children was seriously burned but she and another child, Jerry, 8, escaped by leaping through a window. Mrs. Leonard expressed belief defective wiring caused the fire.

The house was engulfed in flames when firemen arrived from Festus.

The father, a night shift worker at a glass company in nearby Crystal City, was not at home at the time.

The blue jay often eats the eggs and young from the nests of the smaller or weaker birds during the nesting season.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Talk of Draft Of Stevenson Again In 1956

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's presidential headquarters were being dismantled today but his top lieutenants already were talking of another draft-Stevenson movement for 1956.

Out of the wreckage of the Democratic defeat has grown a strong feeling here that Stevenson — as titular head of the democratic party—will be the top challenger against the Republicans in another four years.

The Illinois governor remained silent on his future plans so far as the party leadership was concerned. But those around him did not consider his defeat Tuesday by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the finish of his political career.

Stevenson was expected to make clear within the next few weeks, after a vacation, what his personal plans will be. Those around Stevenson saw the governor as the leader of the party in the months ahead and expected an effort to be made to reorganize and re-build the organization from the bottom up.

Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's presidential campaign manager, old reporters yesterday that he and others in the governor's headquarters had discussed the future with Stevenson and he added:

"Our feeling is definitely that it will be Adlai Stevenson in 1956."

Wyatt wryly conceded that he and others in the Stevenson command had underestimated the political appeal of Eisenhower. Wyatt had predicted a Stevenson victory by at least 400 electoral votes.

The latest count showed Eisenhower with 442 electoral votes and Stevenson with only 89.

The Stevenson command still was trying to put together an analysis of just what had happened in Tuesday's election — and what were the reasons for the Stevenson defeat.

Wyatt told a news conference that the Republican theme of "time for a change" had snowballed into such proportions that no one could have stopped the trend.

SINK SEQUEL—Lt. (JG) Carl B. Austin, who dropped everything, including a kitchen sink, on Pyongyang while on Korean duty, finds that grateful Stateside plumbers remembered his gesture. Alameda County plumbers and machinists presented him with a brand-new piece of plumbing upon his arrival in San Francisco, aboard the carrier USS Princeton. Lieutenant Austin's wife, Peggy, and their daughter, Jacqueline, help him carry the trophy.

Nixon Says Again His Party's Big Job Is One of 'Clean Up'

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President-elect Richard Nixon reiterated today that "one of the major jobs of the new administration will be to clean up corruption" in Washington.

Accompanied by his pretty wife, Patricia, Nixon paused in Chicago briefly between planes on his way back to Washington from his home state of California.

Nixon said he plans to "clean up" some unfinished business in his Senate office and some loose ends of the campaign, then take a 10-day vacation with Mrs. Nixon "somewhere in the East."

BPW Meets Tonight

Miss Lena Rhue, child welfare supervisor from Jefferson City, will be the speaker at the dinner meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club tonight at 6:30 o'clock.

All Electoral Votes of Adlai Come In Dixie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, whose views on civil rights were received with something less than sympathy in the South, got all his electoral votes in Dixie and border states, near-complete returns showed today.

Those returns put the Democratic presidential nominee ahead in only nine states, whose total electoral vote amounts to 89. This was the smallest electoral vote for any Democratic nominee since 1928, when Alfred E. Smith received 87.

There was a chance that Stevenson might yet lose one of those nine states —Kentucky. If so, his electoral vote total would fall to 79.

With 116 precincts missing, Stevenson led in Kentucky by 1,527 votes. He had a popular vote of 484,036 to 482,509 for Eisenhower.

These are the states where Stevenson led (electoral votes in parentheses:

Alabama (11); Arkansas (8); Georgia (12); Kentucky (10); Louisiana (10); Mississippi (8); North Carolina (14); South Carolina (8); West Virginia (8).

All these states have a long tradition of going for the Democrats.

Scouts Win Praise For Aiding In Big Turnout By Voters

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—The Boy Scouts of America won praise today for aid that scouts extended in getting out a record-breaking vote in the nation on election day.

Kenneth D. Wells, president of Freedoms Foundation — a private organization dedicated to promoting better citizenship—stated in a telegram to Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief executive of the BSA:

"We of the Freedom foundations, as co-partners with three million boys and their leaders, bow humbly to scouting in all 48 states for making the practical idealism of youth effective in the nation."

The Boy Scouts, in co-operation with Freedoms Foundation, placed liberty bell doorknob hangers on the doors of 30,000,000 American homes, and distributed more than a million register-and-vote posters.

2 Americans Get Nobel Physics Prize

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 6 (AP) —Two U. S. scientists were awarded the 1952 Nobel prize in physics today for their development of a new refined method to measure magnetic fields in atomic nuclei.

The winners are Dr. Felix Bloch, 47, of Stanford University, Calif., and a Harvard University physicist, Dr. Edward Mills Purcell, 40, who helped develop radar during World War II.

Francois Mauriac, noted french catholic author, was announced earlier today as the winner of the annual prize for literature.

Another American, Dr. Selman A. Waksman, was named last month to receive the prize in medicine for his work in the discovery of streptomycin and its effects against tuberculosis.

Each of the prizes carry a cash award of 171,134 Swedish crowns ($33,037). Bloch and Purcell will share the physics cash prize between them but the other winners will receive full awards.

The formal presentation of the prizes will be made by King Gustav Adolf of Sweden at traditional Nobel ceremonies here Dec. 10.

Bloch and Purcell developed their prize-winning method of measuring magnetic fields in atomic nuclei independently of each other. The technique enabled atomic scientists to increase a thousand-fold the precision of measurements of fundamental importance to the study of the structure of atomic nuclei.

Two eminent young British biochemists jointly won the 1952 Nobel prize for chemistry for their discovery of an ingenious method of separating chemical compounds. They are Dr. Archer Martin, 42, of the National Institute for Medical Research, London, and Dr. Richard Synge, 38, of Rowett Research Institute, Aberdeen, Scotland.

They brought to nine the number of Britons who have received the Nobel prize for chemistry.

Their prize winning chemical separation method marks what Nobel committee experts called "one of the most astounding advances of modern science." It is known as partition chromatography — literally meaning color writing.

Useful in all branches of chemistry, the method has the striking advantage of needing no more than one drop for the analysis of extremely complicated substances like proteins — the main building stones of all living matter.

356th Infantry Rgt. Reunion Saturday

The 356th Infantry Regiment, which was the western Missouri regiment of the 89th Infantry Division in World War I, is having its "Third of a Century" reunion Saturday, Nov. 15, at the Pickwick Hotel, Kansas City.

Four overtime parkers failed to appear in court and their cash bonds of $1 were ordered forfeited.

Circuit Court

Two suits for divorce were filed in Circuit Court Wednesday. Both charge general indignities.

Dolores Maxine Odil seeks a divorce from John Earl Odil. They were married March 18, 1950. George Anson is attorney for the plaintiff.

Helen Petree sued for divorce from John Petree and asks custody of their minor child and payment of alimony, attorney's fees and court costs. Bamburg and Bogutski represent the plaintiff.

Probate Court

Letters of Administration were issued Wednesday in the estate of Joe Culbertson who died Oct. 28, 1952. Lewis K. Demand was appointed administrator. Heirs to the estate included three brothers and one sister. D. S. Lamm is the attorney for the estate.

Fires In The City

A 1935 Terraplane caught fire at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday at Main and Osage, resulting in a run by the Sedalia Fire Department. The fire was caused by a wiring short. The driver of the car was Jim Wilcox.

Dry grass and weeds along the Missouri - Kansas - Texas right of way, about two miles northeast of Sedalia, were burned about 9:45 a. m. Thursday. The flames were fought by section crews of the railroad.

swick, pastor of Sacred Heart Church.

Jack Cunningham, retiring president, presided and introduced Ellsworth Green Jr., Kansas City, Kan.; W. M. Huston, president of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Huston, T. A. Reid, manager of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Reid; Earl E. Uhler Jr. president of the Warrensburg Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Uhler, and James S. Whitfield, executive manager of the Warrensburg Chamber of Commerce and Miss Virginia Raker.

Others introduced by Mr. Cunningham were Mayor and Mrs. Herb E. Studer, Judge and Mrs. J. V. Kesterson, Jim Green, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Mrs. Green; retiring members of the Chamber of Commerce board and their wives: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brunkhorst, Mr. and Mrs. Roy L. Coplen, Mr. and Mrs. Judd Grayston, Damon Hieronymus and Miss Virginia Flower, Mr. and Mrs. George Routszong, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Haller, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Naugel and Mr. and Mrs. Z. Lyle Brown.

Mr. Cunningham then introduced George H. Trader, president of the Sedalia Democrat-Capital and Mrs. Trader, vice president; Geo. H. Scruton, managing editor and Mrs Scruton; Carl McIntire, news edito and Mrs. McIntire and D. Kelly Scruton, sports editor, and Miss Hazel Lang, the reporter who handles C. of C. news and publicity for the Democrat; Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Hudson of the Sedalia Times and Milton Hinlein of KDRO.

Completing his very successful year, Mr. Cunningham then handed over the gavel to the new president, Claude L. Boul, who has been a citizen of Sedalia since 1912. Mr. Boul, who is president of the Sedalia Industrial Loan Company, has been with that company 17 years. He and Mrs. Boul, whom he introduced, have six children, two girls and four boys.

Mr. Boul introduced the new officers for the year and their wives: Bert Hathaway, first vice president and Mrs. Hathaway; K. U. Love, second vice president and Mrs. Love; Mrs. Ike L. Warren, treasurer and Mr. Warren; and members of the board: Leon Archias and Mrs. Archias, Mrs. Anna Bagby, Michael D. Giokaris, Ray Lippard and Mrs. Lippard, Neal O. The new members: Elmer Adams and Mrs. Adams, Kennie Miller and Mrs. Miller, John Pelham, Floyd Priddy and Mrs. Priddy, Miss Eva Evans and Robert Cain and Mrs. Cain. He also introduced Chester A. Brown, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce and his efficient office staff, Mrs. Ike R. Warren, office manager; Miss Clarice Mettler, receptionist-secretary and Mrs. Leonard Peabody, office secretary.

The special music of the evening was by Raymond Marcks, who sang: "With a Song In My Heart," "The Desert song" and "The Loveliest Night In The Year." He was accompanied by Miss Lillian Fox.

The tables were attractive with arrangements of gold and bronze chrysanthemums. The arrangement on the speaker's table was presented by Mrs. Boul to Mrs. Jack Cunningham for her assistance an patience during the past year while her husband gave so much of his time to the work of being Chamber of Commerce president.

The meeting closed with benediction by the Rev. Mr. Brunswick.

At the tables were programs made by the office staff on the front of which was the slogan "Teamwork Makes Progress." The program contained the financial statement of the Chamber of Commerce which shows a balance of $2,989.81, the message of the retiring president, Jack Cunningham and the work that has been accomplished during the year by the various committees.

The banquet and ticket sales was under the direction of Ray Lippard.

Mayor Must Eat Crow As Result of Loss In Getting Out Vote

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP) — Mayor Thomas J. Corcoran must "eat crow" as a result of Syracuse's hairbreadth loss to Rochester in their get-out-the-vote fight.

Unofficial returns from Tuesday's election showed 97 per cent of registered Syracusans voted. Rochester reported 97.8 per cent of its registrants went to the polls.

Corcoran roposed the contest prior to registration, to stimulate the drive for votes. The mayor of the losing city was to "eat crow."

Mayer Samuel B. Dicer of Rochester was reported preparing a "humble pie" for Corcoran.

Corcoran is a Democrat, Dicker a Republican.

THE MARKETS

Quiet Decline by Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—A quiet decline set the Stock Market back moderately today.

There was no particular selling pressure as prices backed down fractions to between 1 and 2 points. On the upside of the market, plus signs were almost entirely smaller fractions.

Not a single major division escaped selling inroads on the fall. Small isolated advances were seen in motors, utilities, rubbers, radio-televisions and chemicals. These were not great enough, however, to turn the tide.

4 More 4-H'ers From This Area To Club Congress

Four 4-H club members from neighboring counties will accompany Pettis County delegate Clinton A. Reid, Houstonia, to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 30 to Dec. 4.

They are: Barbara E. Glenn, 19, of Warsaw in Benton County, state citizenship winner; David Peterman, 16, of Miami, Saline County, winner of the state field crops contest; Shirley Ann Cole, 17, Bunceton, Cooper County; and Homer C. Jarman, 18, of Centerview in Johnson County.

Barbara Glenn has been a club member for 11 years. A student at the University of Missouri where she is majoring in costume designing, she is continuing her interest in clothing which started early in her 4-H career.

David Peterman got started in his field crops project through his interest in livestock. A fat lamb he raised in a ewe and lamb project won him a fourth-bushel of hybrid seed corn in a lamb contest. Since then he has expanded both his field crops and livestock projects.

Shirley Cole has achieved recognition for her outstanding work in health improvement. One of the projects she and other members of her club carried out was the collection and testing of 150 water samples from their community.

Homer Jarman has nine years of club work to his credit, which includes work in numerous projects. In addition to attending college, he is carrying much of the load on his home farm.

Eisenhower Will Meet With Truman In Peace Confab

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Gen. Dwight Eisenhower has accepted President Truman's suggestion for a conference on the problem of peace, and he proposed today that the meeting be held in the week beginning Nov. 17.

Eisenhower replied to an invitation from Truman to meet with him in the White House.

The President - elect said he needs some time for "conversations and conferences leading up to the designation of important assistants." Therefore, his message continued, "I respectfully suggest we tentatively plan the proposed meeting for the early part of the week beginning Nov. 17."

Eisenhower sent the message from his vacation headquarters at the Augusta National Golf Club where he arrived yesterday for a 10-day rest.

Draft Board Meets Tonight at 7 o'Clock

The regular monthly meeting of the Pettis County selective service board will be held at 7 p. m. Thursday in the board's office above the Safeway Store at Fifth and Ohio. Appeals for reclassification may be presented at that time.

Amendments Carry In County, Absentees Could Change No. 2

Pettis Countians split almost evenly in their vote Tuesday on Amendment No. 2, while Amendment No. 1 was given a clear lead. While the majority of the voters cast their ballots in favor of Amendment No. 2, the decision could easily be reversed by the count of absentee ballots.

Many of the absentee voters probably will not bother to vote on the amendments, according to the office of the county clerk, but only a fraction of the possible 882 absentee votes would be needed to tip the scales against the amendment.

The final vote, when it comes, will not be enough to change the state balloting, which carried both amendments.

With 46 precincts reported, Amendment No. 1 was favored 4,926 to 4,107, a safe margin of 819 votes. Amendment No. 2 leads by only 86 votes, with a tally of 4,785 to 4,699.

Amendment No. 1

FOR: All three precincts of the First ward; first and third precincts of the Second ward; second, third and fourth precincts of the Third ward; all five precincts of the Fourth ward; Blackwater No. 1 Cedar, Flat Creek Nos. 1 and 2, Green Ridge No. 2, Heath Creek No. 2, Houstonia, Hughesville, No. 2, La Monte No. 1, Longwood No. 3, Prairie No. 1, both precincts of Sedalia township and both precincts of Smithton township.

AGAINST: Second ward, second precinct; Third ward, first and fifth precincts; Blackwater No. 2, Bowling Green, Dresden, Green Ridge No. 1, Elk Fork, Hughesville No. 1, Heath Creek No. 1 and No. 3, Longwood No. 1 and No. 2; Prairie No. 2 and both precincts of Washington township.

EVEN: La Monte No. 2.

Amendment No. 2

FOR: All three precincts of the First ward, first, second, third and fourth precincts of the Third ward, all five precincts of the Fourth ward, Flat Creek No. 2, Houstonia, La Monte No. 2, Longwood No. 3, Prairie No. 1, Sedalia No. 1 and Smithton No. 1.

AGAINST: All three precincts of the Second ward, fifth precinct of the Third ward, both precincts of Blackwater, Bowling Green, Cedar, Dresden, Flat Creek No. 1, both precincts of Green Ridge, all three precincts of Heath Creek, both precincts of Hughesville, Lake Creek, La Monte No. 1, Longwood No. 1 and No. 2, Elk Fork, Prairie No. 2, Sedalia No. 2, Smithton No. 2 and both precincts of Washington.

Ike Can Claim US Popularity Unequalled by Few, If Any

By The Associated Press

A cold appraisal of election statistics today leads to the conclusion that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower enjoys a nationwide popularity to which few, if any, other men in history could lay claim.

The political fires which blazed across this nation for four long months have been reduced to embers and it is easier to discard personalities and examine statistics. Here are some things the statistics show:

1. Eisenhower received more votes than any presidential candidate in history—millions more than any other. Too, the total vote was the greatest ever recorded.

2. His immense vote-appeal swept into office with him a majority of Republican candidates for the Senate, the House of Representatives and for governors of the several states.

3. His electoral vote total was the second highest ever piled up by a Republican—just a shade under the total accumulated by Herbert Hoover in 1928 when religious prejudice against his opponent, Alfred E. Smith, figured prominently in the returns.

4. Eisenhower shattered the once "Solid South," winning three of the most staunchly Democratic states in the country and apparently adding four of the almost-always Democratic border states.

5. He punctured the Democratic strongholds of Massachusetts and Rhode Island where Irish - Catholic citizens have voted in blocs for the Democrats for a quarter of a century.

Of the nation's 146,361 voting units, all but 10,842 had been tabulated by daybreak today. Eisenhower had piled up a vote total of 31,875,451 compared to 25,668,925 for Adlai Stevenson, his Democratic opponent.

In the electoral college, where presidents actually are chosen, Eisenhower had won 442 votes against 89 for Stevenson. Some states might yet swing over to Stevenson, particularly Tennessee, but it seemed unlikely. And Kentucky might yet go to Eisenhower.

Hoover received 444 electoral votes to 87 for Smith in 1928. Only one other Republican—Warren Harding — got more than 400 electoral votes. That was in 1920 when Harding won over James Cox, 404-127.

Virginia, Florida and Texas went Republican. The border states that went for Ike were Maryland, Oklahoma, and Missouri.

Eisenhower ran far, far ahead of his party, sweeping Republicans into office with him, in many cases over strong Democratic opposition.

In Wyoming, for instance, Sen. Joseph O'Mahoney, a highly ranked Democrat, lost to Gov. Frank Barrett when Eisenhower took the state, ending a Democratic grip on its voters. The one thing happened in Arizona where Sen. Ernest McFarland, Democratic majority leader, lost to Barry Goldwater, a political novice.

Whether Eisenhower will retain his tremendous popularity through the next four years remains to be seen. His najorities in both houses of Congress are very thin indeed —48 to 47 in the Senate and 220 to 214 in the house.

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon holds the key to whether the Republicans will have a working majority in the organization of the Senate. He was elected a Republican but bolted the party to support Stevenson.

If he lines up with the Democrats, the alignment will be 48-48 with Vice President Richard Nixon having the opportunity to resolve the tie in favor of the Republicans.

Republicans gained five governors in Tuesday's voting, boosting their lead in the state's gubernatorial mansions from two to 12, that ratio will hold if the two races still in doubt, in Michigan and Montana, go the way they are headed now.

Before the voting, there were 25 Republican governors and 15 Democrats. Now there are 29 GOP governors and 17 Democrats.

Talk of Draft Of Stevenson Again In 1956

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's presidential headquarters were being dismantled today but his top lieutenants already were talking of another draft-Stevenson movement for 1956.

Out of the wreckage of the Democratic defeat has grown a strong feeling here that Stevenson — as titular head of the democratic party—will be the top challenger against the Republicans in another four years.

The Illinois governor remained silent on his future plans so far as the party leadership was concerned. But those around him did not consider his defeat Tuesday by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as the finish of his political career.

Stevenson was expected to make clear within the next few weeks, after a vacation, what his personal plans will be. Those around Stevenson saw the governor as the leader of the party in the months ahead and expected an effort to be made to reorganize and re-build the organization from the bottom up.

Wilson Wyatt, Stevenson's presidential campaign manager, old reporters yesterday that he and others in the governor's headquarters had discussed the future with Stevenson and he added:

"Our feeling is definitely that it will be Adlai Stevenson in 1956."

Wyatt wryly conceded that he and others in the Stevenson command had underestimated the political appeal of Eisenhower. Wyatt had predicted a Stevenson victory by at least 400 electoral votes.

The latest count showed Eisenhower with 442 electoral votes and Stevenson with only 89.

The Stevenson command still was trying to put together an analysis of just what had happened in Tuesday's election — and what were the reasons for the Stevenson defeat.

Wyatt told a news conference that the Republican theme of "time for a change" had snowballed into such proportions that no one could have stopped the trend.

Scouts Win Praise For Aiding In Big Turnout By Voters

VALLEY FORGE, Pa. (AP)—The Boy Scouts of America won praise today for aid that scouts extended in getting out a record-breaking vote in the nation on election day.

Kenneth D. Wells, president of Freedoms Foundation — a private organization dedicated to promoting better citizenship—stated in a telegram to Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief executive of the BSA:

"We of the Freedom foundations, as co-partners with three million boys and their leaders, bow humbly to scouting in all 48 states for making the practical idealism of youth effective in the nation."

The Boy Scouts, in co-operation with Freedoms Foundation, placed liberty bell doorknob hangers on the doors of 30,000,000 American homes, and distributed more than a million register-and-vote posters.

A Democrat class ad will do it! Phone 1000.

All Electoral Votes of Adlai Come In Dixie

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adlai Stevenson, whose views on civil rights were received with something less than sympathy in the South, got all his electoral votes in Dixie and border states, near-complete returns showed today.

Those returns put the Democratic presidential nominee ahead in only nine states, whose total electoral vote amounts to 89. This was the smallest electoral vote for any Democratic nominee since 1928, when Alfred E. Smith received 87.

There was a chance that Stevenson might yet lose one of those nine states —Kentucky. If so, his electoral vote total would fall to 79.

With 116 precincts missing, Stevenson led in Kentucky by 1,527 votes. He had a popular vote of 484,036 to 482,509 for Eisenhower.

These are the states where Stevenson led (electoral votes in parentheses:

Alabama (11); Arkansas (8); Georgia (12); Kentucky (10); Louisiana (10); Mississippi (8); North Carolina (14); South Carolina (8); West Virginia (8).

All these states have a long tradition of going for the Democrats.

Nixon Says Again His Party's Big Job Is One of 'Clean Up'

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President-elect Richard Nixon reiterated today that "one of the major jobs of the new administration will be to clean up corruption" in Washington.

Accompanied by his pretty wife, Patricia, Nixon paused in Chicago briefly between planes on his way back to Washington from his home state of California.

Nixon said he plans to "clean up" some unfinished business in his Senate office and some loose ends of the campaign, then take a 10-day vacation with Mrs. Nixon "somewhere in the East."

Ike Victory Follows Swing Of World Cycle

By CARL C. CRANMER
(Associated Press Foreign Staff)

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's victory in the United States, putting an end to 20 years of New Deal Fair Deal administration, conforms to a swing from the cycle of social welfare experiment in most of the English speaking world.

In the non-English speaking western world, too, a trend to moderate or outright conservatism is apparent.

As the cleavage between the Communist Eas. and the West has become sharper, socialist, leftist and decidedly liberal regimes that sprang up in the depression and postwar years have fallen away.

Until the Republican landslide in Tuesday's election, the most startling reversal for socialism was in England, which Winston Churchill's conservatives captured a slim parliamentary margin just over a year ago. There the socialists of the Labor party, who came to power in 1945 even as the West was attempting to fashion a post war understanding with Russia at Potsdam, were thrown out after six years of sweeping social and economic revolution, and nationalizing of industry that now is being checkmated but not wholly cancelled by the Churchill government.

The turn in the Einglish-speaking world really was called by the voters of New Zealand three years ago this month. A Labor government which had pioneered a wave of advanced social legislation was turned out after 14 years in office by Nationalists pledged to free enterprise.

The following month, Australia's voters also turned against their Labor government that had been in power since 1941, and put into office a liberal - country coalition headed by Robert G. Menzies.

In all these cases much of the pioneer social legislation has been retained by the more conservative regimes now in power.

The United States election Tuesday was closely watched by Canada, another member of the British Commonwealth, where the Liberal party has been in power for 17 years. The Canadian liberals, most nearly comparable to the Democratic party in the United States, may call for a general election next year. They won a landslide victory in 1949 over the Progressive Conservatives of George Drew.

France, which had Communists in its first postwar cabinets, has gradually been shifting to the right. The Communists have been displaced as the first part in the National Assembly by the right-wing coalition dominated by Premier Alcide De Gasperi's Christian Democrats.

Belgium's Social Christians finally got the upper hand in the 1950 elections, after a succession of Socialist and coalition governments though the social and economic issues were obscured by the controversy over former King Leopold.

Contrary to the general pattern, the Netherlands' Labor party nosed into the lead as the nation's strongest party in the lower house for the first time in history in elections last June. But the Communist vote took a nose dive, and the Senate, chosen separately, took on a definitely conservative color.

Denmark's minority Social Democratic government gave way in 1950, after three years' rule, to a Conservative - Agrarian coalition which made gains in the September elections.

Italy's postwar political history has been much the same. Communists and Socialists, who together got nearly 40 per cent of the seats in the constituent assembly in 1946, dropped to 31 per cent in 1948 when the first Chamber of Deputies was elected under the new constitution. Since 1948 Italy has been ruled by a center Degaulists. Though the same middle of the road group of parties, which had ruled France since 1947, emerged victorious in the last assembly elections in June, 1951, the emphasis was slightly to the right of center.

Bible Words to Live by

My favorite Bible verse is found in the Gospel.

* * *

ST. JOHN 15:7. "If ye abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatsoever ye will, and it shall be done unto you."

* * *

This is my favorite passage because it answers the heart-hunger of mankind for completeness by promising the Presence and the resources of God's omnipotence. It inspires hope for me in my human weakness and frailty. Moreover, it sets forth a challenging relationship between God and the individual. Here I learn that if I desire God's blessings and resources then I must fulfill certain requirements and conditions. God's promise is conditional upon my willingness to get into the proper environment and spirit to receive and use His blessings. This Divine-human relationship which Jesus described when He said, "I am the vine, ye are the branches," is a stimulus to me to measure up to my part of the contract. It counteracts the laxity and laziness within me when I am tempted to shirk spiritual disciplines. I have tested the promise again and again through the years and I always find that when I do my part God fulfills His promises.

Missouri Natural Gas Co., Gets Go Ahead On New Construction

JEFFERSON CITY, (AP) — The Missouri Public Service Commission today gave Missouri Natural Gas Co. authority to go ahead with a construction financing plan totaling $432,000.

The proceeds would be used to pay for extending services in the utility's operations in Poplar Bluff, Fredericktown, Farmington, Festus, Crystal City, Bonne Terre, Elvins, Desloge, River Mines, Ste. Genevieve and St. Francois.

It includes sale of $250,000 worth of 4½ per cent sinking fund debentures to St. Louis Union Trust Co. and issuance of $182,000 worth of convertible 5 per cent subordinated notes which would mature in 1977.

Stockholders who take the 5 per cent notes may convert them at any time to common stock at the rate of $8 a share.

More than 1,320,000 cords of pulpwood are cut annually in the state of Maine.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON CONCRETE
...it's the SAFETY pavement!

Highway deaths in Missouri, at the present rate, would wipe out a town the size of Nevada, Maryville, Marshall, Kennett or Washington in 10 years. The first step in reducing this tragic toll is to build with the safety pavement—concrete. Here's why concrete has a high degree of built-in safety:

AT NIGHT light-colored concrete reflects more light. You can see farther and you can see obstructions, pavement edges and pedestrians clearly.

RAIN OR SHINE concrete's gritty surface provides uniformly high skid resistance. You can stop quickly and safely in emergencies.

NIGHT OR DAY concrete is a safer pavement because of its high light reflectance and skid resistance. It also is free from hazardous ruts, bumps and chuckholes. This built-in safety may prevent accidents for you!

Concrete also offers outstanding economy. It is moderate in first cost yet costs far less to maintain and lasts much longer. Result: low-annual-cost service.

It's your money, Mr. Highway User, that pays for Missouri roads. Get the most for your dollars. Insist on the safety and economy of concrete roads.

MMA Plays Tigers Here Friday Night

Smith-Cotton High School Tigers play their last game Friday night, meeting the Missouri Military Academy Colonels from Mexico. This is a Central Missouri Conference tilt and victory for M. M. A. can give them at least a tie with either Jefferson City or Columbia for the title.

At present Columbia, Jefferson City and MMA are tied, each having lost one game. Columbia defeated Jefferson City, MMA defeated Columbia and then Jefferson City defeated MMA.

Smith-Cotton has lost but two conference games, both to leaders, Columbia and Jefferson City by large scores. The Columbia game was a 33-13 contest and the Jefferson City contest 20-0.

Could Place Second

By defeating MMA Smith-Cotton could come out of the conference with a second place tie in spite of the hectic season. The Tigers have defeated Kemper and Hannibal in the conference, while they have been on the losing end to Columbia, Jefferson City, Raytown and North Kansas City.

Coach Ralph "Stub" Dow has been working the team over the past several days and he is confident his aggregation will give M. M. A. a real fight for the final honors of the season.

Thursday morning three hours were spent by the players practicing and making ready for the Colonels. From 9 to 10:30 the team held "skull" practice and from 10:30 to 12 noon they took to the field and worked on the plays.

"If the boys will play all the game Friday night, like they have played the last half of the games for the past three weeks then I would say the Colonels may be defeated. The boys have been trying hard and they have satisfied me to a certain extent," Coach Dow reported.

Big Squad of Seniors

MMA is coming to Sedalia Friday with a squad of 31 players—19 of these players are seniors — which indicates the material the military academy has a right to boast about. The Smith-Cotton Tigers team has but two seniors, the rest ranging from sophomores up.

Phil Wulff has suffered a knee injury which will keep him from the lineup Friday. Wulff will be replaced by Melvin Jones at left tackle.

Lanny Crouch, who was out last week because of illness is back in the lineup, relieving Jones who shifts to the opposite side.

Benny Neal at left end, Ernie Deuel at left guard; Earl Nold at center, Darrell Ford, right guard and Benny Walker, right end, fill out the remainder of the line.

The Colonels lineup was not announced up to today.

Tipton Wards Give Identical Vote to Ike

TIPTON — Tipton's two wards were in unison on voting for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. He was given the same number of votes in each ward, 259, for a total of 518.

Gov. Stevenson polled 215 in the West Ward and 179 in the East, totaling 394.

Symington by 4 Votes

Stuart Symington won in Tipton for senator over James P. Kem by four votes.

Phil M. Donnelly won the gubernatorial contest over Howard Elliott by 54 votes.

In the race for lieutenant-governor, James T. Blair Jr. had 476 votes and Henry Arthur 428.

For secretary of state, Walter H. Toberman tallied 466 and Ballard Watters 435.

George Hubert Bates for state treasurer had 459 and Vern F. Carpenter 445.

In Tipton's vote for attorney general, John M. Dalton polled 468 against 433 for Richard M. Webster.

Boxing's Big Brass To St. Louis Today

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Boxing's brass moves into St. Louis today with the expected ntention of formally scheduling the light-heavy-weight title bout between Champion Joey Maxim and Challenger Archie Moore here Dec. 10.

A formal declaration apparently is all that remains to make the St. Louis arena the match site. St. Louis, Moore's hometown, has been the city most frequently mentioned in recent rumors concerning the place of the bout.

Allan Potts, Olympic Ice-Skater, Is Dead

NEW YORK (AP) — Allan Potts, 49, one-time Olympic ice skater, died of a heart attack last night while skating at a city rink.

Potts was a member of the 1936 U. S. Winter Olympics speed skating team hat competed in he games at Garmisch-Partenkirchen, Germany.

Moose Clip SAFB Wings For First Win

Sedalia's Moose Club built-up a 31-16 half-time lead over the Sedalia Air Force Base and then weathered a 15-point fourth quarter surge by the Airmen to grab a 48-41 victory in a basketball contest played at Horace Mann Gymnasium.

Coach Bud Michaelis' thin ranks netted only three points in the final quarter in racking-up their first win of the season. With only six men available, the starting Moose five played without relief until Barnes fouled out with seven minutes left in the game. The veteran John Mais finished for Barnes.

The final analysis of the tilt shows inability to hit from the free-throw nine cost SAFB the game. Both teams were called for rule infractions 13 times . . . with the Moose Club bucketed 17 free tosses, while the Air Base collected but seven.

Don Brown led the Moose scoring column with 14 points, followed by Michaelis with 11 and Bobby Brown with ten, Jeffers and Franklin were the backbone of the Flyer attack with 12 and 11 respectively.

Sooners Meeting Irish When They Are At a Peak

SOUTH BEND, Ind (AP) — On paper, the undefeated Oklahoma Sooners must rate a sizeable edge over Notre Dame Saturday. But past statistics mean little for a game such as this promises to be.

Notre Dame is likely to enter the nationally-televised contest a 10 to 12 point underdog, the biggest odds against any Irish football team in recent years.

On paper they deserve it.

The Sooners are the nation's top scoring and rushing outfit. Seventeen backs have carried the ball; 11 players have scored; 10 have done the passing and 11 have nabbed 35 passes. Six or seven players are All-America candidates.

That's a lot of horses.

Notre Dame lacks this versatility of manpower. In fact, it lacks the manpower. But what it does have will be supercharged with fighting spirit.

That vibrant, emotional pitch, so typical of Notre Dame teams pointing for a big one, is hitting its peak this week.

T-C Sportsmen Win and Lose 68-47; 49-53

Town and Country Sportsmen, Wednesday night, divided victories in a doubleheader played at Horace Mann School gym. The opener was won from Tipton by a 68-47 score while the second was dropped to Otterville in a 49-53.

The Sportsmen jumped into an early lead and kept a tight grip on the game throughout the contest. The first half the Sedalians had a 38-24 lead. In the third quarter the teams battled for a 10-9 point scoring, Sedalia having the edge, while in the fourth quarter the Sportsmen continued their winning ways, tallying 20 points as Tipton added 14.

Murphy was high point man with 24 and Martin runnerup with 13 points for the Sportsmen and Bixler was high pointer for Tipton with 15 and Pettigrew was runnerup with 14 points.

In the second game it was an up-and-down contest from start to finish with the lead changing several times. The Sportsmen trailed Otterville at the end of the first quarter 11-12 but in the second stanza they tallied 18 points while Otterville scored but 11 and took over the lead at the half 29-23.

The second half Otterville came back in the third quarter and scored 17 to the Sportsmen's 12 points, one point short of tying up the game. The fourth quarter Otterville scored 13 points while the Sportsmen were able to make but eight and won the contest, 53-49.

Murphy and Masters were again high pointers for the Sedalians. Murphy got 22 points and Masters 12. Paul Fouller scored 16 for high point man for Otterville and Edwards 11 for runnerup.

Major Changes Over Waivers, Bonuses Due

NEW YORK (AP)—Who says that picking football winners is as easy as picking apples? Not this forecaster, who had only 36 correct selections in 49 decisions last Saturday. That's an average of .735.

Last Saturday's debacle dragged the seasonal mark down to .771 on figures of 229 won, 68 lost.

Here are the uninsured winners of this week end's games:

Michigan State over Indiana: NCAA statistics show that Michigan State has the most fearsome attack in the land. The statistics say nothing about Indiana's defense.

Oklahoma over Notre Dame: Quarterback Crowder and center Catlin, Oklahoma's C-C boys, to turn the tide even though the game is played in South Bend. The game is your TV morsel Saturday afternoon. It should be just about the best game you'll get to see in your living room all season.

Georgia Tech over Army: Two teams of whirlwind speed. In addition to all that speed Georgia Tech has an awesome backfield trio in Turner, Teas and Hardiman.

UCLA over Oregon State: Should be easy unless UCLA relaxes too much.

Southern California over Stanford: Too much Trojan defense.

Kansas over Nebraska: The injury lists are about of equal length but Kansas is superior in most other respects.

Tennessee over Louisiana State: Since that 7-0 setback by Duke, Tennessee has developed into a bowl-bound football team.

Purdue over Minnesota: There is at least one upset in the Big 10 but this doesn't appear to be the place for it. Purdue on its way to the Rose Bowl.

Duke over Navy: A squeaker.

Texas over Baylor: Arkansas beat Baylor, Texas crushed Arkansas. Off comparative scores.

Penn over Georgia: Some day those Quakers will break loose and this could be the Saturday.

Princeton over Harvard: The venerable Big Three series is resumed and for the first time in a decade all have fashionable records. Princeton, however, has met the stauncher opponents.

Finishing the rest in a hurry:

Friday Night

Detroit over Boston College, Bucknell over George Washington, Miami of Ohio over Marquette, Vanderbilt over Miami of Florida.

Saturday

East: Trinity over Amherst, Fordham over Clemson, Connecticut over Brown, Columbia over Dartmouth, Holy Cross over Colgate, Rutgers over Lafayette, Maine over Bowdoin, Syracuse over Penn State, Coast Guard over RPI, Temple over Boston University, Wesleyan over Williams.

Midwest: Toledo over Bradley, Michigan over Cornell, Colorado over Missouri, Iowa State over Drake, Illinois over Iowa, Wisconsin over Northwestern, Ohio State over Pitt, Villanova over Tulsa, Wyoming over Kansas State.

South: Alabama over Chattanooga, Kentucky over Tulane, Auburn over Mississippi State, Washington & Lee over North Carolina State, Furman over Presbyterian, Davidson over Richmond, South Carolina over The Citadel, Virginia over North Carolina, West Virginia over VMI, William and Mary over VPI.

Southwest: Mississippi over Houston, Rice over Arkansas, Southern Methodist over Texas A M, Texas Christian over Wake Forest.

Far West: Washington over California, Idaho over Montana, New Mexico over Denver, Colorado A and M over Utah, Washington State over Oregon.

Early American Indians used 144 drugs for specific conditions and 59 of these are included in modern pharmacopoeia.

Sugar Bowl Grabs Ga. Tech for Game

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The Sugar Bowl grabbed prize Georgia Tech and began combing the meager list of remaining eligibles today for a team capable of matching football wits with the nation's third ranking team.

Officially the Sugar Bowl had no comment about an opponent for unbeaten and untied Tech here Jan. 1. Privately, however, one Sugar Bowl official said he would like to see either Maryland or Oklahoma—two tested Sugar Bowl favorites. But both now are banned by their conferences from bowls.

With both out of the running, apparently, another official said: "We honestly have nobody in mind now."

Star Safety Men for Wyo. K-State Game

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—First class defensive play by safety men can be guaranteed for the Kansas State-Wyoming football game at Manhattan, Kas., Saturday.

The setup will match Veryl (Joe) Switzer, Kansas State's second team All America safety of last season, and Harold Farmer, Wyoming's fleet sophomore.

While the first meeting of Wyoming, a Skyline Eight entry, and Kansas State of the Big Seven will attract practically no national attention, several factors shape it up as a top flight contest.

Both clubs are short on manpower and neither is enjoying a great season although Wyoming has won half of its six games. Kansas State has lost six in a row since opening with a victory over Bradley.

Coach Bowden Wyatt's single wing Cowboys have a real find in Farmer, who is a second string wingback as well as regular defensive safety. Farmer is a 10 second track man.

Switzer also works both ways in Coach Bill Meek's split T offensive. Big Seven broad jump champion, Switzer is a slashing runner and very dangerous on punt returns.

Two other Big Seven schools have non-conference engagements Saturday also. The Oklahoma Sooners meet Notre Dame at South Bend and Iowa State plays Drake at Ames, Ia.

The Sooners, working in secret, plan no further scrimmages. Iowa State, however, went through a lengthy scrimmage.

Colorado and Missouri tapered off practice for their conference meeting at Columbia, Mo. In the weekend's other conference game, Nebraska plays Kansas at Lawrence, Kas.

Nebraska coach Bill Glassford had his B team running Kansas plays against the varsity yesterday. At Lawrence two Kansas defensive platoons worked against freshmen using Nebraska formations.

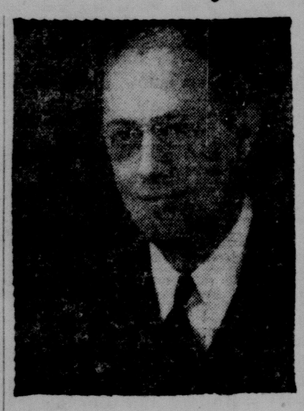
Kresge's Opening New Store, Twice As Large, On Friday



Harry S. Naugel

Harry S. Naugel, who for the last 12 years has been manager of the Kresge store in Sedalia, looks with pride on the newly remodeled, twice as large store which will open its doors Friday for a big two-day celebration.

"Ours is more than just an enlarged store," said Naugel, "It is now a complete one-stop shopping center for every member of the family with a wide range of ready-to-wear and household necessities as well as the customary ten-cent store items.'

The S. S. Kresge store, which since 1915 has been located at 306 South Ohio, has added another store building, the building south.

Modernism marks the store front with its mottled rose porcelain enamel on steel giving a pleasing effect. Across the front is a new sign of red neon-lighted letters spelling out the name.

Inside the store is modern, too, with a citified look. With the light walls, the large store becomes even brighter with the new flourescent lighting.

Construction work for the enlargement was done by the Cramer and Schrader Construction Co., Sedalia, and James A. Clarry of the Kresge construction department represented the retail company on the job. Plans were drawn by the Kresge's design division.

For the past few weeks there has been hammering and activity in the new store building while work went on as usual in the old store — that is as near as usual as it could. But customers were interested as the holes began to appear in the south wall, holes that became eight-foot-wide archways, three of them, to connect the new addition with the other store, and, were eager to get into the new store — so eager that they wanted to buy merchandise in the new store before they were ready to sell — the same things they could buy in the old store. But, Harry Naugel is always a good business man, he is always ready to try to please his customers — so, he moved a cash register into the new store and told the girls if people wanted to buy, to sell them from the new store.

Tired, dusty, girls, who were getting the new merchandise in place as fast as they could, smiled at customers, waited on them and answered sincerely: "Yes, we think it is beautiful, too," as people made remarks about the new store — and sometimes they added: "At least we think it is going to be beautiful if we ever get things in place."

But things are in place — and the two buildings have become one large attractive store — just in time for the Christmas rush. Already the Christmas tree decorations are adding their glitter to the store, dolls and toys are on the shelves on new modern counters and Christmas cards remind you that the season is just around the corner.

There is an expansion of all merchandise in all departments which includes a new ready-to-wear, complete infants' wear, boys' and men's furnishings an enlarged horticulture and lamp and shade departments.

There is something to interest noon-time shoppers — a luncheon fountain that has been extended 25 feet for greater accomodation. The new fountain is located in the the new space and will be a welcome place for customers all through the day, when they get a bit weary from shopping and want to stop for a bite to eat.

The new addition is owned by Mrs. Katherine G. McGrath of Sedalia. The older unit is being leased from Mrs. Louise Knell of Carthage, daughter of late H. W. Meuschke, from whom the founder of the Kresge Co., Sebastian S. Kresge, first leased it back in 1915.

There were a number of managers of the local Kresge store between the time the first store opened and the coming of Harry Naugel in 1940, and several of them married Sedalia girls. So did Harry Naugel. Mrs. Naugel is the former Miss Alberta Thomas, who has served the company for the past 35 years, and is still on the job helping her husband out whenever he needs her. He needs her most of the time.

Before joining Kresge's in 1927, Harry had successfully taught school in Iowa for five years. He started his training with Kresge's at a store in Des Moines, and within two years had worked up and was appointed assistant manager of their Des Moines unit. In 1930 he was appointed assistant manager at Fort Dodge, Ia., and prior to his assignment to Sedalia he served as assistant manager at stores in Marshalltown, Ottumwa and Cedar Rapids.

Since coming to Sedalia he has made himself a part of the town, interested and active always in its progress. He has worked tirelessly in many civic affairs and on many worthwhile projects — believing that any job worth doing is worth doing well. At the same time he never neglected the one thing foremost in his heart—his own business as the manager of Kresge.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Naugel are members of the First Methodist Church where he is a member of the official board and serving on the financial committee.

He is a Rotarian who holds a perfect record of attendance since joining the club. He has served on many committees in that organization, giving his best for service and is now chairman of education.

Ever since coming to Sedalia he has been an active member of the Chamber of Commerce and is now a vice president. He has served as a director and as chairman of many committees. He received a certificate of merit for the outstanding man in service to the community in 1950 while J. Harold Seaberg was president.

Mr. Naugel is vice chairman of the Pettis District of the Boy Scouts and he comments that his greatest satisfaction was the completion of the Statute of Liberty on the Court House lawn by the Boy Scouts to "strengthen the arm of liberty" here in the United States.

He is a board member of the local Red Cross, serving as fund raising chairman, and is active in the present blood program as well as on disaster. Always he is ready to do the job and last Fair Week he proved that it didn't matter what the job was. When Chester A. Brown, executive manager of the Chamber of Commerce, found that the tornado had hit the Fair Grounds and there was a need of help — he immediately thought of the Red Cross. Knowing that Naugel was active in the Red Cross called him. "I'll notify the Red Cross", said Naugel, "And I'll be out there as soon as I can get my clothes on," for it was the wee hours of the morning. A few minutes later he was there and he stayed right on the job, Mr. Brown said, and added, "you can always depend on Harry."

This year Harry Naugel is serving as an ex offico president of the Community Chest board which he organized in 1951, and this is the first year he has not been working as hard as he could, and doing considerable worrying if it wasn't going good. This year T. H. Yount is acting president with 21 associate directors. But Naugel is still interested and helping.

For the past several years, through the chain and associated stores, Naugel, with many others of the group, has provided a noon day luncheon for all the Pettis County 4-H leaders for which they have shown a great deal of appreciation.

Mr. Naugel has as his assistant manager Lowell Vineyard. Donald Bowers, is local assistant manager, Mrs. Dority office manager, Mrs. Olga Wessel, fountain manager, and there are 15 department heads, who will welcome the customers from this territory to the new big store.

Ike's Winning Margin In Tennessee Won't Be Known 'Till Monday

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's margin of victory in normally Democratic Tennessee will not be known until next Monday when the official canvass is made.

The Republican nominee today held a lead of 5,590 votes over Democrat Adlai Stevenson on Associated Press tabulations from 2,454 of the state's 2,495 voting precincts in Tuesday's presidential election. Eisenhower's vote totaled 425,638 and Stevenson's 420,048.

Nine of the uncounted ballot boxes were in Shelby County (Memphis), where Stevenson held a slight lead. Three others were in Knox County (Knoxville), where Eisenhower was ahead nearly 2-to-1. Election officials said these untabulated votes will not be counted until the official canvass next Monday. The other precincts, scattered over the state, represented a comparatively small amount of the untabulated votes.

Only Mennen Wins for Dems In Michigan

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams, the "boy wonder" of Michigan politics today once again stood as the sole barrier to a Republican sweep of state offices in Tuesday's general elections.

In almost complete returns from the state's 4,480 precincts, Williams alone on the Democratic ticket holds a chance of winning. The governor holds a slim lead of 3,948 votes over his Repubican opponent, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger, Jr.

Neither Williams or Alger would discuss a recount yet. Both candidates said they preferred to wait until the official canvass of Tuesday's balloting, scheduled some 10 to 20 days from today.

But spokesmen in the Republican camp indicated a recount would be demanded if the final official vote placed the Republican candidate within 10,000 votes of Williams.

The possibility of a recount marked the second successive time Michigan's gubernatorial race has gone down to, and beyond, the election wire.

Ike Supporters Down In Dumps After Election

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — It's possible for Ike supporters to be down in the dumps. Four at the University of California are — by judge's orders.

The four — Terry A. Walsh, 18; Daniel H. Power, 20; Karel A. Smith, 21, and Ted Moriarity, 22 —were nabbed by police while setting Eisenhower victory bonfires.

Their sentence: four days raking refuse at the city dump.

Doctor Follows Mother's Footsteps

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — Dr. Frances Zoeckler is following in the footsteps of her mother, who was a medical missionary in Iran for 40 years.

The 33-year-old doctor, who was born in Iran, is now interning in obstetrics in a hospital here. Upon completion of her work she hopes to return to practice in Iran. The doctor, who won her medical degree from Johns Hopkins University, had been in charge of work for women and children at an Iranian hospital.

Dr. Zoeckler's mother, Dr. Mary A. Zoeckler, recently retired and makes her home here. The doctor's father, a Presbyterian minister, died in missionary service in Iran.

Fortuna Soldier Discharged, Remains On Same Job at Camp as a Civilian

HUNTSVILLE, Ala.—Sgt. William D. Buss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle D. Buss, Fortuna, has received his discharge from the Army at Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

The sergeant, an engineering draftsman in the Guided Missle Development Group at the Ordnance Corps guiled missle and rocket weapons control center, will remain here as a civil employe in the same capacity.

Sgt. Buss entered service in May 1949. He received basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark., and attended a service school at Ft. Belvoir, Va., where he studied engineering drafting.

From Virginia, he was transferred to the original Ordinance Corps guided missile organization at Ft. Bliss, Tex. He come to the North Alabama installation when it was designated the control center for the Army's guided missile and rocket program.

Sgt. Buss is married to the former Miss Doris Turner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Turner, formerly of Syracuse. In Huntsville the Buss's live at 518 Randolph.

Cold Wind Blows Over US Today, But Its Fair

By The Associated Press

Strong winds blew cold air over wide areas of the Mid-Continent today but it was generally fair and mild weather in most other parts of the nation.

No heavy rainfall to ease the fire situation in the dry timber areas was reported. Showers hit the northern part of lower Michigan while snow flurries were reported in the Lake Superior region. Light rain continued along the coastal sections of eastern Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi.

Strong northwesterly winds whipped the lakes region with gusts of 32 to 36 miles an hour in eastern Minnesota and Wisconsin, and gusts of 25 to 30 miles an hour in northern lower Michigan and in upper Michigan.

The colder air which hit Illinois yesterday extended eastward and southward over the Ohio valley and the middle and upper Mississippi valleys as far south as central Arkansas and Oklahoma. Coldest weather was in the Great Plains with temperatures below freezing in eastern Montana and western North Dakota.

Nixon Gains Weight During Election Trek

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Richard Nixon gained both the vice presidency and a little weight during the arduous campaigning, his press secretary reported today.

James Bassett didn't say how many pounds the senator had put on while eating campaign meals but revealed Mrs. Nixon, who accompanied her husband, had lost about 15.

"She ate like a bird," said Bassett.

Springfield, Missouri Loses Get-Out-Vote Contest to 2 Others

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) —Springfield—the one in Missouri—came out the worst of the two other Springfields it challenged to a get-out-the-vote contest.

The one in Ohio was high with an 86.88 per cent. Turnout, and Springfield, Ill., had 83 per cent. Springfield, Mo., was far behind with 63.8 per cent.

General Haight Is Just An Army Sergeant Now

State Department Talked Him Out of His Brigade Command In Kashmir

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

FT. BELVOIR, Va. — It's not so much the actual demotion from general to sergeant which rankles. It's just that having once been a general does have drawbacks for a man when he finds himself a sergeant.

That's the report of Sgt. Russell K. Haight, 30, now an engineering instructor at Ft. Belvoir, Va., who formerly served as a general in the Kashmir Army in 1947. He successfully led a brigade of 2000 tough dragoons against the Indian Army and almost broke up part of the holy wars there single handed.

He was such an able general that the Indian government, in desperation, persuaded the U. S. State Department to talk him out of his command. He got his own Haight-type revenge on the Indians, however, for this.

Fleeing a plot on his life, and with a heavy price put on his head by the Indians, he duped an Indian officer into providing him a staff car across the border to safety in New Delhi.

The only thing that peeves Sgt. Haight today is that just after being pressured into giving up his general's stars, and then re-enlisting in the U. S. Army, his application for a U. S. commission was turned down on the grounds of insufficient experience.

One of the big things Haight has is military experience. At 17, he left Denver, Colo., high school in 1939 to join the Canadian army. He was in the Commandos and saw some rough combat before America got into the war.

Transferring to U. S. forces he spent time in the infantry, teaching judo and weapon training. At the end of the war he was in pilot training. Then he had a short stint as a cop in Denver, sold insurance and finally wound up in Afghanistan as a civil engineer.

Over there he became friendly with Sardar Mohammed Ibrahim Khan, then president of the Kashmir government. Sardar talked Haight into joining the Kashmir forces as a captain, with the promise of a good civilian job at the end of the fighting.

"It took about six weeks to see that we were fighting the wrong kind of war," Haight says. "We were dissipating our energies attacking cities. So I went back to the president and laid a new plan before him. I suggested that we concentrate on cutting the key

The president of Kashmir was impressed with the plan and sold it to other Kashmir leaders. To Haight's surprise they asked him to carry it out as the head of a brigade of 500 regulars and 1500 tribesmen and with a promotion to general.

"My forces were mounted on everything from camels to jackasses," Haight recalls, "but they were plenty tough." The deal was an even better job after the fighting, with all of his expenses paid in the meantime. He refused a salary of $800 a month for fear of losing his U. S. citizenship.

"I was given two .38 Specials and a good sword," he says.

Just as his master plan for driving the Indian army out of Kashmir was getting into high gear, international politics poked into Haight's blooming career. The Indians put a price on his head and began pressuring Washington to get him out of the action altogether.

The American consul got a message to him from Washington urging him to quit his post at about the same time Haight discovered a plot against his life.

"I was coming home from a party when two men ambushed me and tried to kill me," he says. "I am sure now that they were Russian agents. When I escaped I decided that it was time to get out of the whole business, and fast."

Crossing the border, he claimed that he was an American reporter interested in doing some stories on refugees. The Indian army officer in charge failed to ask for press credentials and became so interested in the story idea he gave Haight a staff car.

Back in the States later, his wife told him:

"Russ, whatever job you get, you always seem to end up in somebody's army. Why don't you go back in your own?"

He took the advice, and now ex-general Haight, his wife and three young daughters are living near Alexandria, Va. He's working for a college degree in engineering in his spare time and thinks he might get out when this hitch is up.

Looking back he says, "Sometimes they needle me a little about my experiences, but it was fun and I don't regret a minute of it."

SERGEANT HAIGHT, U. S. Army, re-enlisted after his whirl as a general in Kashmir.

Hurley Has Votes Impounded After Losing to Chavez

ALBUQUERQUE (AP) — Democratic Sen. Dennis Chavez has won re-election over Republican challenger Patrick J. Hurley for the second straight time. But the result may not become official for weeks.

Chavez, head of the Senate Public Works Committee, led 121,563 to 117,018 in the unofficial count with all but 13 of the state's 894 divisions reported.

Declining to concede, Hurley, former secretary of war and at one time ambassador to China, had ballot boxes in four Northern counties impounded. Chavez about 2,700 votes of his lead.

It may be weeks before the ballots are checked and released by the State Canvassing Board.

Mrs. John Kenney Starts Nursery For Tiny Tots

Mrs. John Kenney, 320 West Tenth, is starting a day nursery for children from two years to school age — and to accommodate working mothers who have children in school who would like to have a place for them until they are off work.

Having two boys of her own, one six and one nine, and because she worked for awhile herself, gave her the thought that working mothers need help.

Too, she has a big house and two rooms she doesn't use she can turn into a nursery. She has little tables and chairs and there will be puzzles, color work and clay as well as other things to keep little hands occupied.

She ill give a noonday meal and cookies and milk in the afternoon and the nursery will be open every day except Sundays and holidays.

She has a fenced-in backyard with playthings.

Mrs. Kenney will also keep youngsters for an afternoon or a day while mothers, who are not employed, but who want to go somewhere, can leave them at the nursery and feel that they are given the best of care. Mrs. Kenney has had baby sitter problems, too, and is trying to give mothers a place to leave their children.

Some of her friends, says Mrs. Kenney, shake their heads at her undertaking. But she thinks it will be fun because she loves children.

Oklahoma Bans Hunting

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Hunters will have to postpone their trips this year until general rains soak the parched Oklahoma soil and reduce the fire hazard.

Gov. Johnston Murray Wednesday banned all types of hunting and warned that violators would be vigorously prosecuted.

Murray's proclamation said it was a time of emergency because of the "worst drought in the state's history."

He added the ban even includes rabbit hunting without guns.

There are about 1,400 different uses for salt, one of the least important ones being as a seasoning for food.

Democrat Pick-Ups

Odds and Ends By News Staff

The two year old in a Democratic home was asked who he was goin to vote for and he pointed to the picture of the elephant in the paper.

"No, no," said somebody in his family who felt the coming generation must be Democrats, too, "You don't want to vote for the elephant."

A little later another member of the family asked the baby how he was going to vote and he looked up brightly —this time he was sure—I'm going to vote for the w," he said. H. L.

"The Star Spangled Banner" is a tune that appeals to a small Sedalia boy—he uses it to express his feelings—and not his feelings of patriotism, either. The words don't mean a thing to the little man—but he puts his own words to the tune when he gets mad or provoked at anything — he just stands there and sings what he is thinking about to the tune of "The Star Spangled Banner" and gets it off his chest.

He has a happy song, too, and when he is glad about anything he sings "Happy Dan".—HL

Death Unfolds Man's Double Life; 2 Families

TROY, N. Y., (AP) —The death of a 31-year-old truckdriver has unfolded the tale of his two wives, four children by each wife, and two homes 60 miles apart.

Eugene Wood's seven years of double life were revealed yesterday, when Mrs. Anna Wood of Saugerties and Mrs. Jean Wood of Schaghticoke tangled over his certain rights to estate.

Wood was killed last Sept. 30 in a collision at Paramus, N. J. Anna's attorney, Max Goldstein of Albany, said that until then neither wife knew about the other.

Goldstein said Wood worked it this way:

He drove for a suburban trucking company, which ships produce to New York City and New Jersey. On trips, Wood stayed with the wife and four children in Saugerties, about 45 miles south of here.

Otherwise he was at home with his family in Schaghticoke, about 15 miles north of Troy.

Goldstein said Wood married Anna in 1941, Jean in 1945. Anna has four children, one to 10 years old, and Jean has four, Goldstein said.

Soviets Report Two Important Appointments

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet newspapers today announced two importnat appointments — a new leader of the Communist Youth League and a new premier of the Russian Republic, largest of the 16 units of the Soviet Union.

The new premier is Alexander Puzanov, who was named chairman of the council of ministers of the Russian Soviet Federal Socialist Republic. This republic embraces 76 per cent of the Soviet land mass and includes the greater part of what was once the Czarist empire.

Teh new youth leader is A. N. Shelepin, elected first secretary of the league to succeed N. A. Mikhailov. Mikhailov resigned as head of the organization of 16 million soviet young people after he was elevated to the secretariat of the Soviet Communist party's central committee. Shelepin previously had served as one of his deputies

Foreign Affairs Clamor For Post-Election Attention

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952 By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

WASHINGTON —With the hectic election period over, the United States will have to give some attention to our badly neglected field of foreign affairs, particularly to the wave of anti-American propaganda now sweeping the various parts of the world.

For some time, due to the charges and countercharges of the candidates, positive policy by the state department has been pretty much suspended. So, likewise, with some of our most important allies. Both Foreign Secretary Eden and Foreign Minister Schuman have delayed any important pronouncements on foreign affairs until after elections; in fact, even urged other United Nations members to postpone the general assembly until after November 4.

One of the most shocking development which the United States will have to do something about is the barrage of scurrilous propaganda in Korea, charging us with atrocities against Korean women. The details in some cases are almost too revolting to be printed in family newspapers, but Russian and satellite publications are spewing this poison every day.

While the Voice of America is trying to counteract it, its budget thanks to the pruning of irascible Sen. Pat McCarran, has been drastically cut.

Here are illustrations of what the North Koreans are telling Asia about us.

Eerie Tales

North Korean newspaper Minchu Chosen reports this eerie account of UN troops in the district of Echu:

"American soldiers picked all the young women out of the crowd (of natives) and locked them in empty warehouses. All the women were then raped. The American butchers began to brand patches on the women's bodies with heated irons and nails.

"All the women who resisted the ravishers had a wire put through their nose by the Americans and they were led by this wire through the village. The monsters gouged out the eyes of many women and hacked lumps of flesh out of their bodies.

"The butchers disemboweled several pregnant women who fell into their hands during the temporary occupation of the town of Sariwen."

The journal New Korea also reported in a recent issue that Americans "tortured more than 700 patriots near Mount Mirosan." This lying article, obviously dictated by a higher Communist echelon, went on to say:

"The murderers seared them with heated irons, knocked out their teeth, cut off their noses, and gouged out their eyes. They led the women naked through the streets and then shot them. In the village of Duchen, Pyonyang district, the American bandits arranged a so-called 'Exhibition of Reds.' After tying the hands and feet of 130 patriots, they bound them to trees and for a long time gave them no food. All the 130 people died.

"Once," the Communist article continued, "the American butchers led out more than 30 young women and girls on the street in this village. Many of the women had children. The American monsters brought this group to the Nekyagor Gorge, where a pit several meters long was already dug.

"The women were placed at the edge of the pit. One of the escorts went up to a woman with a child in her arms and bayoneted her from behind and then kicked the body into the pit. Seeing this, the remaining women attempted to save themselves by flight, but the enemy bullets overtook them. All the women were killed and their bodies thrown into the gorge."

Gore and Lies

With typical Communist relish for mixing gore and lies, the New Korea added: "In the village of Saphenni, Senen rural district, about 200 women were subjected to mockery. Outraging the defenseless women, the butchers stripped them naked and tied them up in groups of five and ten. The butchers used these women as live targets for pistol shooting.

"During the withdrawal from the District of Yanyan, the occupiers took with them a large group of the inhabitants of the district. These exhausted people were told by the Americans that they were being evacuated to a safe place. The Americans then called up aircraft by radio.

"Fighter planes dived on the defenseless people and brutally began to machine-gun them. In this way more than 300 guiltless people died."

We know, for instance, that the Communists long ago trademarked the brutal practice of leading Koreans and Chinese they considered "traitors" or "pro-Americans" down a village street with a wire through their noses. This also happened to American officers captured by the Communists in Seoul.

Communist Brutality

The custom of tying victims together in groups and to trees before murdering them also is a Communist practice. The above-mentioned "gorge" murders near Duchen, falsely charged to Americans, also have a striking parallel in the brutal mass murder of 12,000 Poles by the Russians in Katyn Forest early in World War II.

Many of the Poles were tied to trees and shot through the head before being dumped into a huge burial pit. The number and pattern of bullet marks in the execution trees indicated the victims were used for pistol-shooting practice by the Russians, according to a congressional investigating committee headed by Rep. Ray Madden of Indiana.

Some state department officials believe that the current GI "atrocity" propaganda by the Communists may be their answer to the Katyn expose. The Voice of America did a remarkable job of airing the Katyn murders behind the Iron Curtain.

Our broadcasts on this were so effective, in fact, that Foy Kohler, administrator of the Voice of America, has received numerous requests for reprints from behind the Iron Curtain. The reprint request which Kohler is proudest of came via the underground from a courageous lady in Moscow.

THE STORY: Al Kemmer, owner of High Hill Lodge, was being blackmailed because he moved the body of a murdered racketeer without reporting it to police. Next there is a mysterious attack on Al and Eddie Fields, an entertainer at the lodge, and Al dies of wounds inflicted with an ax. Eddie survives with a concussion. Sergeant Healey of the state police has ordered the cabins searched, but they overlooked Harmony House, where Eddie and his wife, Roslyn, lived, and Al Kemmer's bungalow. Dan Morrison, athletic director, decides to search the bungalow, but as he enters he sees a light, hears whispers and runs into a fist.

XVI

SOME people tried to rush over me as I splattered down on the floor, and I caught an ankle, and the owner had gone crashing down just past my head. It was a tough, sinewy ankle, covered with pants. I quickly twisted around on my stomach and slid my arms forward to get a toe hold on the gentleman. There seemed to be somebody else between me and the side wall. I kicked out. I hit something soft.

"Oh, lordy!"

I knew only one person who said oh lordy.

"Midge, turn on the light," I said.

A light blazed in the bedroom ceiling. I wasn't terribly surprised to find myself in the company of Leo Ritchie.

I made sure he wasn't holding anything; then I let go. I stood up, took Midge's arm and forced her back into the bedroom.

There was a maple kneehole desk near the window. The drawers were open. There were papers all over the top.

Ritchie came into the doorway. His face was taut, ready for battle. "I'll overlook the sock in the jaw," I said. "Sit down."

He kept standing.

"Let's go, Midge," Ritchie said.

"Better slow down there, pal," I said. "You know you're guilty of housebreaking, don't you?"

"Don't get in my way. Come on, Midge."

"Did this guy take anything out of here?" I said.

"No, he didn't—neither of us took a thing," she said anxiously.

"Let's go!" Ritchie growled, grabbing her arm.

That got me.

I came at him fast. He was ready for me. He let go of Midge and whipped a roundhouse over her head. I caught it on my left forearm and shot my right at his jaw. It landed a little high, but solid—Ritichie had to take a step back to keep from going over.

"Stop it, stop it!" Midge cried, squeezing between us, pounding at my chest. "Both of you!" she said, but she pounded me exclusively.

Ritchie charged back at me. I had to dispose of Midge fast. I twirled her, sent her sprawling across the bed.

• • •

I SLAMMED out my left blindly —then swung my right, everything, everything I had, an open, wide-swinging hook—and caught him, plonk! on the side of the jaw.

I leaned back against the wall and amazedly watched Leo Ritchie's long body wilt—the knees sagging first, then the arms and shoulders drooping, then everything giving way all together and becoming an awkward heap on the floor, half sitting up. I walked over and gave his shoulder a shove, and his body untwisted and spread out serenely across the braided Colonial rug.

Midge clambered off the bed and went down on her knees, catching hold of his head. "What've you done to him?" she said hoarsely.

"Look what he's done to me."

My face felt as if a horse had been walking on it. There seemed to be nails in my ribs. But mostly my right hand—my right hand hurt. I had blasted my fingers on the sharp ridge of his jaw. Silliest thing a man can do, sock sombody on the jaw with your fist. Dramatic, but the easiest way to fracture fingers.

Midge had Ritchie's head in her hands, stupidly shaking it. "Leave him alone," I growled. I sat down on the maple rocker and tenderly felt my abused fingers. "Now talk quick, girl. What were you two doing here?"

She looked up at me. She was too dazed to be defiant. "I thought we could get some . . . some information."

"Information about what?"

"About Mr. Kemmer . . . any records . . . something that might be a clue about something."

I got down on my knees and went through Ritchie's pockets to make sure he hadn't taken any of Al's papers. I even looked through his wallet. There was a membership card, expired, in a New York "Y," a New York bus ticket, a snapshot of a thin girl in a bathing suit, and $9. He owed High Hill a lot more than $9. And who was the girl? His wife? Did he have a scrawny drudge at home, taking in washing to pay the rent while he gallivanted?

"What're you doing?" Ritchie was squirming awake. I jammed the wallet in his pocket and went back to the chair.

• • •

RITCHIE struggled up to his feet. He felt his jaw. He looked at me uncertainly, as if he weren't too keen on another tussle right then.

I stared at the trunk under Al's bed. The big iron-bound trunk I'd noticed several times before while visiting Al here. . . . The lock was loose!

"Midge, did you break into that, too?"

"What?"

I jabbed a finger at the trunk. "Oh no," she said, wide-eyed, "we never touched that."

"The lock's been tampered with."

She looked at it. "We didn't do that. We never touched that trunk."

"Okay, beat it, scram," I said wearily. "No more amateur detecting, you hear?"

Ritchie gave me a long scowl to preserve his combatant status and jerked away through the doorway. Midge scurried after him.

Patsy Ryan Crowned Activity Queen at First Basketball Tilt

By Beverly Couhig

Patsy Ryan was crowned the 1952-53 activity queen at the half of the Knob Noster-Sacred Heart game Tuesday night. Jim Fall, basketball captain, placed the crown of white baby mums on the queen, who wore a white formal trimmed in blue. Her escort was Dick Stohr.

The attendants were: Josephine White, junior, escorted by John Seifner; Nancy Esser, sophomore, escorted by Robert Bennett; and Donna Buchholz, freshman, escorted by Bill Mateja. Bob Rialti played the "Triumphant March" as the queen and her attendants took their places.

To select the queen, each class elected a candidate. The class selling the most activity tickets, the seniors, had their candidate crowned queen.

Adlai Wins In Vote

The freshman civics class sponsored an election Tuesday. It was conducted the same as the local elections. Our polls opened at 7:45 a.m. and closed at 2 p.m. Sacred Heart proved to be Democratic — Adlai Stevenson won by a large majority.

Taft Believes Split In South Is 'Real One'

CINCINNATI (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft believes the split in the once-solid South is a "real one," but he doesn't forsee any Southern Democratoic leaders moving into the Republican party right away.

The Ohio Republican, commenting yesterday on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's victory for the presidency, said he did not look for immediate assistance for Republicans in Congress from person like Price Daniels, the senator-elect from Texas who supported Eisenhower.

Sabath Dies After 24th Election Win

WASHINGTON (AP) — Adolph J. Sabath, one-time poor immigrant boy who rose to serve 45 unbroken years in Congress—more than any other man in history—died early today.

The 86-year-old Democratic dean of the House, known as "the congressman with a golden heart," had just been elected Tuesday to his 24th straight term from a district in the heart of Chicago.

Sabath had served under eight presidents, starting with Theodore Roosevelt in 1907.

For many years he had been chairman of the powerful House Rules Committee, which decides what bills will come up for floor action.

He was a prime figure in "New Deal" and "Fair Deal" legislation —author of a workman's compensation act, sponsor of the first old age pension plan, champion of social security benefits and the eight-hour work day.

Death came at Bethesda Naval Hospital as a result of complications from a major operation last June. He entered the hospital several days ago—and was seriously ill when he won a 2-1 victory at the polls Tuesday.

Pettis County Teachers Attend State Convention

Among the 15,000 teachers expected to be in attendance at the convention of the Missouri State Teachers Association in Kansas City this week will be a number of teachers from Pettis County.

County Superintendent and Mrs. C. F. Ccotten and the office secretary, Miss Marjorie Rector, went to Kansas City on Wednesday. Also going on Wednesday, as delegates, were: Mrs. Maude Harhis of Maple Grove School, Miss Mary Anderson of Walnut Grove School, Mrs. Edith Donath of Oak Grove School and Paul S. McKee, superintendent of the Smithton schools.

Among the other teachers attending the convention on Thursday and Friday will be the teachers of the Hughesville, LaMonte, Smithton and Green Ridge schools and the following county teachers: Mrs. Helen Walter and Mrs. Thelma Buckley of High Point, Mrs. Virginia Farris and Mrs. Elizabeth Bronson of Georgetown, Mrs. Hazel Summers, Barbara Aeschbacher and Eileene Kendrick of R-VII, and Mrs. Russell Lesh and Lula Wheeler of R-XII.

The office of county superintendent of schools in the court house will be closed during the period of the state teachers' convention.

Faculty Members Quit as School Denies Negroes

SEWANEE, Tenn. (AP) — Eight faculty members of the University of the South have resigned in protest over a decision by the trustees not to admit Negroes to the Theological School.

Their resignations, effective at the end of the current academic year, were accepted yesterday by Dr. Edward McCrady, vice chancellor of the Episcopal church-supported school.

Signers of the letter, dated Oct. 6, were the Rev. F. Craighill Brown, dean of the Theology School; the Rev. Claude E. Guthrie, the Rev. Robert Lansing Hicks, the Rev. Robert Malcolm McNair, the Rev. Howard A. Johnson, James A. Reddick, the Rev. Frederick Quentin Shafter, all professors, and the Rev. Richard Hooker Wilmer, school chaplain.

When the controversy first became public, Chancellor R. Bland Mitchell of Little Rock said there was no university ordinance excluding Negroes, but that he had been advised that such enrollments would be in violation of Tennessee law.

No Negroes have ever applied for admission toSewanee, he added.

McCrady accepted the resignations "with deep regret."

The wholesale resignations leaves only one seminary faculty member, the Rev. Bayard H. Jones, who did not resign and reportedly took no part in the protest, the school said.

Whittaker Chambers In Critical Condition

BALTIMORE (AP) — Whittaker Chambers remained in serious condition at St.Agnes Hospital today, suffering from a heart attack that came last Monday.

Doctors said his condition is expected to stay serious for some time.

The 52-year-old Chambers, who has a farm near Westminster, Md., was the government's star witness in sending Alger Hiss to prison.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood---

Thelma Ritter Most Promising Mature Comedienne In Films

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Thelma Ritter is the most promising mature comedienne to come along in many years, but don't call her a "second Marie Dressler."

"I don't want to be called a second anything," commented the salty actress, who indicated she just wanted to be a first Thelma Ritter. But although she lacks the girth of the late Miss Dressler, she is on the way toward developing as large and devoted a following.

Miss Ritter, who speaks in tones that would seem at home in Ebbetts Field, admitted that she receives a volume of mail that surprises her.

"Of course, I let the studio take care of the ordinary mail," she said. "You know the letters that say, 'Please send me an autographed picture of yourself and a silver frame to go with it.' But the studio sends me some of the more intelligent letters, and I get a kick out of them.

"For some reason, I get a lot of mail from people in Scotland. That amazes me. I'd think they couldn't even figure out what I was saying."

Miss Ritter continues to maintain a home in the East, where her husband, advertising man Joseph Moran, and two children live. She commutes here for pictures and remains aloof from the Hollywood hubbub. In fact, it looked a few months ago as though she would chuck the works because of the roles she was getting.

"I was playing too many maids," she commented. "Or at least it seemed as though I was. I was a maid in 'a Letter to Three Wives,' but that gal was right out of left field. Then there was 'All About Eve.' But what most people didn't catch was the line where I told Bette Davis that for 10 years I closed the first act. Anybody who did that in vaudeville was doing all right."

Her insistence on a switch in casting brought results. In "The Farmer Takes a Wife," she played "the richest woman in the Erie Canal, a gal who was widowed five times." In "Pickup on South Street," she plays a panhandler. Now she's a millionairess in "Nearer My God to Thee."

Lausche Wins Ohio Governor: Downs C. P. Taft

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche, lone Democratic survivor of a state - wide Republican sweep, sported two Ohio election records today.

He became the first Ohio governor to win a fourth term and he did it with a record plurality for that office.

With only a handful of the state's 10,877 polling laces incomplete after Tuesday's record balloting, Lausche passed Republican Charles P. Taft, brother of Sen. Robert A. Taft, by more than 422,000 votes.

GOP. Sen. John W. Bricker set the previous record of 379,000 in the 1942 race for his third term as governor.

Bricker, 1944 vice presidential nominee, won reelection Tuesday in what he termed his last campaign. By a margin of more than 343,000 over Michael V. Disalle, President Truman's former price stabilizer.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower had a 504,0000 bulge over Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of illinois, the Democratic nominee.

Truman carried the state by a 7,000 - vote margin in 1948 and it went Republican by 11,000 in 1944.

Knob Noster GI Gets Rest Trip, Korea to Japan

WITH THE 25TH INFANTRY DIV. IN KOREA—Pfc. Richard D. Rainer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Rainer, Knob Noster, recently spent a five-day vacation from Korea on a rest and recuperation leave in Japan.

A member of the 25th Infantry Division, he stayed in one of the finest hotels in Japan and enjoyed many luxuries unobtainable in Korea. The leave is part of the Army's policy to give the fighting soldiers a rest from the rigors of combat.

Pfc. Rainer is serving as a cannoner in Battery C of the 21st Anti-Aircraft Artillery.

End Thousands of Operating Room Disasters Team Concentrates on Cheating Death

ARMY, NAVY AND VA SURGEONS learn technique of bringing hearts back to life in the operating room from medical team of Western Reserve University School of Medicine professors.

By NEA Service

CLEVELAND — Janet S. was cheerful as the nurse pushed her stretcher to the operating room. After all, she told herself, there was really little to fear. She had always been strong and healthy and the operation was only a minor appendectomy.

But an hour later, Janet was dead. Her shocked family was told simply that her heart had failed.

Thousands of operating room disasters like this one are recorded each year, many of them preventable. Too many doctors simply don't know how to restore life when a heart stops.

A team of Cleveland medical men is out to cut down on this toll by teaching the latest death-cheating methods in a series of monthly courses. Much of its work is sponsored and financed by the Cleveland Area Heart Society.

Composed of professors from the Western Reserve University School of Medicine and two or three other doctors, the team has already schooled nearly 400 professional men from all over this hemisphere. Its teachings have been so successful it was recently called to Washington to teach surgeons and anesthetists from the Army, Navy and Veterans Administration.

Dr. Claude S. Beck, a noted heart surgeon who is an active worker in the project, says the fact that so many of the operating room disasters happen to good-risk patients during only minor operations is deplorable.

"For a patient with a good heart and good lungs to die because doctors and anesthetists did not know how to resuscitate him," he asserts, "is tragic."

"No surgeon should take a knife in his hand unless he knows how to resuscitate a patient. It is not fair to the patient."

When a heart collapses, the brain is cut off from its normal supply of oxygen, causing it to die or suffer permanent damage. Therefore, the first step taught in the resuscitation procedure is the restoration of oxygen.

"Once you have done that," says Beck, "the crisis is over. The human heart wants to beat and any normal heart can be revived. Once you get the oxygen system in operation so the brain does not die, you can even summon a surgeon from another building to start the heart on its own again. Squeezing the heart will circulate the blood to the brain until it starts its automatic beating."

The responsibility for detecting the signs of collapse well enough in advance so that something can be done, say the medical men, is that of the anesthetist. Once the usually clear signs are noted, they can normally be controlled by saturating the red blood cells with oxygen.

Electrocardiographs — machines which give constant heart readings on a graph — are urged as standard equipment in all operating rooms. The responsibility for providing such necessary equipment, says Beck, is that of the hospital administrators.

Use of the life-restoring techniques at the University hospital has reduced the number of operating room deaths from the normal one in every 1000 anesthesias to only one in 4000.

Dr. Robert A. Hingson, professor of anesthesia, is hopeful that general use of the methods will speed the day "when we won't lose three per cent of our American babies."

Ike Can Continue Or Stop Programs By Appointments

WASHINGTON (AP) — President-Elect Eisenhower can change — or continue unchanged — government policies that affect the nation's day-to-day living through appointments to the many independent agencies of the government.

The outlook of the men who make decisions in agencies like the Federal Power Commission, the Federal Reserve Board, the Federal Trade Commission and the Interstate Commerce Commission can spell the difference between "big government" and restrained government.

The new administration can exert immediate influence on most of these agencies by designation of new chairmen, but getting a Republican majority in the commissions might take years.

The full force of any such changes may, therefore, not be felt for some time to come.

In almost all cases, the independent agency administrators are appointed by the President with the approval of the Senate. The President in most cases names the chairmen of commissions without reference to Congress.

McCarthy Wins Second Term By Big Margin

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy, one of the stormiest issues on the national political scene, won his second term handily Tuesday but he trailed president-elect Eisenhower and the entire state ticket in Wisconsin.

The Republican senator's communist-in-government charges were endorsed by 844,304 voters in returns from 3,137 of Wisconsin's 3,225 precincts. His Democratic opponent, Thomas E. Fairchild, former state attorney general and U. S. attorney, drew 702,992 ballots.

McCarthy carried 64 per cent of the state's 71 counties in piling up his 141,312 majority. He had beaten Howard McMurray by 242,000 votes in the 1946 election.

Eisenhower's margin in Wisconsin Tuesday was more than double McCarthy's. Returns from 3,182 precincts gave him 958,173 votes to 609,637 for Gov. Adlai Stevenson.

The majorities hung up by Wisconsin's Republican state officers, all reelected, were greater than Eisenhower's Gov. Walter Kohler Jr., and Secretary of State Fred Zimmerman set new records.

Now We Can Print It!

General's Personal Appeal May Give Him Congress That's Friendly

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress has returned to Republican control by a margin so thin that President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower probably will depend upon bipartisan support to put through many of his policies.

This support, many believe, he is likely to get.

While the general was winning with a landslide vote Tuesday, his supporters fought bitterly and in some cases neck and neck for seats in the 83rd Congress, which will consider major international and domestic problems next year.

Eight congressional races went into vote-by-vote counting, with at least three of them dependent upon absentee ballots from throughout the world, including Korea. In some close races, defeated candidates have indicated they may contest the outcome.

Complete Senate returns gave the Republicans 48 seats and the Democrats 47. Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, who resigned from the Republican party to support Gov. Stevenson, was listed as an independant with possibly a decisive vote.

The Democrats held a 49-47 edge in the 82nd Congress. In the last Republican-controlled 80th Congress of 1947, the GOP had a 51-45 advantage in the Senate.

Republicans Tuesday won 220 House seats, two more than necessary for control. The Democrats took 206 but one of these became vacant with the death last night of Rep. Sabath (D-Ill), dean of the House, who had just been elected to his 24th consecutive term. A House vacancy can be filled only by a special election.

One independent who usually votes with Democrats was reelected and Democrats were leading in all eight undecided districts.

The Democrats held 232 House seats in the last Congress, but this advantage was largely nullified by an anti-Truman voting coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

In 1947, the Republicans controlled the House by a 245-188 margin, with one vacancy and one American Labor party member.

The victory gives the GOP a voting edge, particularly if Southern Democratic support continues, but the Republicans will gain greater power by controlling committee chairmanships and other top positions in both houses. From these posts, GOP leaders can direct the progress of legislation.

The new Congress faces basic decisions on how much money to spend on foreign aid and the military buildup, whether to continue the present high tax rates and what to do about expiring wage and price controls.

Many of the top Republicans in Congress favored reducing the nation's foreign commitments below the minimum that Gen. Eisenhower, before his nomination, said was safe.

The Republicans captured we of the 35 Senate seats at stake, with the Democrats winning 12. This was a net GOP gain of two seats.

Four incumbent Republicans were beaten—Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. of Massachusetts, who was Eisenhower's preconvention campaign manager; James P. Kem of Missouri; Harry Cain of Washington and Zales Ecton of Montana.

But 11 members of the Republican "Class of 1946"—prominent in the last GOP Senate victory—survived. They included Sens. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin and William E. Jenner of Indiana, who drew heavy Democratic fire during the campaign.

Four Democratic senators also were overturned—Ernest McFarland of Arizona, the majority leader; the veteran Joseph O'Mahoney of Wyoming; William Benton of Connecticut and Thomas Underwood of Kentucky.

Morse emerged as one of the Senate's most controversial figures because he has not indicated how he will vote. A tie would be broken by Vice President Barkley until Jan. 20 and after that by Vice president Nixon.

Sen. Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, top-ranking Republican for seniority, will become a key figure in the new GOP majority. He can become the majority leader and also can have his choice of the chairmanship of either the appropriations or Armed Services Committee.

Sen. Robert A. Taft, who lost the Republican nomination to Eisenhower, also will be highly influential. He could take over either the tax-writing Finance Committee or the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, which would consider any suggested changes in the Taft-Hartley Act.

McCarthy is in line for chairmanship of the Government operations Committee, which investigates all federal agencies. Jenner is eligible for top spot on the Rules and Administration Committee, which handles election contests and other matters.

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin will have a choice between heading the Foreign Relations or the Judiciary Committee.

In the House, the Republicans gained 23 seats but lost six other places to the Democrats, for a net increase of 17. The GOP added another seat from a new district.

The veteran Sam Rayburn of Texas will yield the speakership to Joseph W. Martin Jr. of Massachusetts, who held this post in the 80th Congress.

BECAUSE OF HIM, THEY READ—Brian Murphy, 8, left, and Berle Bransky, 12, blind New York school children, unveil a bronze bust of Louis Braille, in ceremonies commemorating the 100th anniversary of the birth of Louis Braille, who devised the raised-dot system of printing for the blind. The bust, executed by Simon Slifkin, will be presented to the French government. It was on display at the 29th annual Women's International Exposition in New York.

Hostess to Tell Of Shooting Airline Official

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A circuit court grand jury today is expected to hear a pretty, 20-year-old former airlines hostess relate how she shot and killed an airlines official here last March.

The young woman, Mrs. Thomas H. Van Bibber, Sr., signed a statement admitting the laying shortly after the shooting, police said A coroner's jury already has returned a verdict of justificable homicide in the March 16 shooting.

The slaying is being investigated by the grand jury since the coroner's jury did not act as a trial jury in the case.

Mrs. Van Bibber, who was the Miss Bettey Lou Tracy at the time of the slaying, told police she shot Lawrence E. Keil, superintendent for Ozark Airlines, in his car in front of her home after he threatened her life for associating with other men. The girl described Keil 43-year-old father of two children, as an admirer.

Russell Harbit Sells His Calf At the Royal

GREEN RIDGE — Russell Harbit, son of Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Harbit of Green Ridge, entered and sold his fat steer in the FFA division of the pre-American Royal Show and Sale in Kansas City. The calf was judged to be of sufficient quality to remain for the American Royal Show. The calf weighed 1120 pounds and brought 35½ cents per pound, 1½ cents above the market top for that day.

Mrs. Dixie Myers, postmaster of Green Ridge went on vacation last week and left for California to visit her son, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Myers at Santa Monica. Mrs. Myers will visit with other relatives while in California. Mrs. H. E. Carter Jr., is on duty at the post office during Mrs. Myers' absence.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lee Raslee, born Oct. 30, at the Bothwell hospital in Sedalia, has been given the name of Surita Kay. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baslee of Spring Fork and Mr. and Mrs. Luther Hoard of Green Ridge are the grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Kaiser and sons, Don, Jack and Rickie, of Parkville, visited Mrs. Kaiser's mother, Mrs. F. M. Starr, who is ill at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Frank McKay, southwest of Green Ridge. Mrs. Bernice Luteri, another daughter, came from Geneva, N. Y., to visit her mother. Mrs. Starr is suffering from leukemia.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Ream were recent guests of Mrs. Ream's sister, Mrs. Kenneth Johnston, Mr. Johnston and daughter, Janice and son Dale at their home in Nevada.

Albert Upton sold the service station on Main Street to Coy Spry who took possession Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Baker attended the lumbermen's convention at the Bothwell Hotel last Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Anderson and daughter of Pratt, Kan., spent the weekend visiting his mother, Mrs. Beulah Anderson and his sister and brother, Sammy and Beth Anderson, and with Mrs. Anderson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Rayburn.

Miss Ruth Pace of Joplin spent the weekend visiting her father, Ira Pace. She returned to Joplin Sunday evening.

Mrs. Lewis Mayo Jr., and daughter Ann of Bossier, La., spent last Wednesday afternoon as a guest of her grandmother, Mrs. J. H. Woods.

John H. Miller of Centralia has purchased the farm of Frank S. Johnson, located northeast of Green Ridge. Mr. Miller will take possession and move to the farm next spring.

Recent Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harley Williams and children Shirley Jean, Bob and Don were Mr. and Mrs. Sanner Davis and son Wayne and Mrs. Roy Johnson and son Kenny Dale, all of Kansas City.

Cpl. Bergman, Camouflage Exp't, To Be Discharged

FT. RILEY, Kan.—Cpl. Gilbert A. Bergman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bergman, 524 West Third, Sedalia, soon will be released from active duty after serving with one of the Army's unique units.

Stationed at Ft. Riley, he was a member of the 47th Engineer Camouflage Battalion which is the "enemy" force used frequently to add realism to Army field maneuvers.

His battalion has taken part in several large-scale maneuvers throughout the United States such as "Exercise Longhorn" in Texas this summer.

Corporal Bergman, a camouflage specialist, entered the Army in February 1951.

Bergman, who received basic training at Camp Chaffee, Ark., served in Korea with the 38th Field Artillery Battalion of the 2d Infantry Division before his assignment at Ft. Riley last July.

His wife, Ruth, lives at 353 North Second, Phoenix, Ariz.

Rhee Tells Eisenhower Koreans Are Thrilled Over His Trip There

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—South Korean President Syngman Rhee today messaged President-elect Eisenhouer "we are delighted and the entire nation is thrilled" over his projected trip to Korea toseek an end to the war.

"Please include . . . Mrs Eisenhower," Rhee said. "Her presence will be a great honor and encouragement to our suffering people and the U. N. forces fighting in the front line."

A government spokesman said Eisenhower would be welcomed with possibly the greatest reception ever held in Seoul.

West Third Gets Improvement With Curb and Gutter Project

West Third from Beacon to the State Fair Boulevard is having a "face lifting" which will not only beautify that section, but will give an improved street to Sedalia. The improvement will be a tremendous help to traffic when the new football stadium is completed, as well as relieving a traffic problem at present.

Property owners from Beacon to Limit have had curb and guttering placed in front of their property in accordance with specifications made by City Engineer James I. Collins. From Limit to the Boulevard, where the street is divided for a two-way drive, the two streets have the same type of new curb and guttering.

The curb and guttering on the north side of Third from Beacon to Limit was installed by the Sedalia Park Board while the curb and guttering on the south side of the north drive and on the north side of the south drive was installed by the City of Sedalia.

Third Street from Beacon west to the State Fair Boulevard, has always been under the jurisdiction of the Twelve Mile Special Road District, and the district is to fix over the street from curb to curb. The district had been planning for sometime to make major repairs on the street, which was gradually breaking down, but property owners asked that this work be delayed until their improvements could be made.

The commissioners of the road district were happy to cooperate as the improvements will be a big help in protecting the road when it is repaired. The repairs anticipated at first would cost little less than what work will be done. The road has been cut up, leveled to the grade set by the city engineer and the gravel distributed from Beacon to Limit. The same type of work will be done on the two one-way drives.

The streets will be left to settle through the winter months and next spring the district will roll the gravel, then put a two-inch asphalt mat on the gravel, giving that section exceptionally good blacktop streets.

It was also indicated the road district would make like improvements on roads under the district supervision where the property owners will cooperate in putting in curb and guttering. The curb and guttering protects the edges of the blacktop from crumbling and at the same time protects it from water seeping in from the outside of the road.

On the West Third project, a new roadway opening has been "curbed-in" at the swimming pool road, which runs north and south through the park. This opening has been moved slightly west from the other road entrance and is much wider.

A "cut-through" was made of the parkway between the one-way drives at Gentry street and this is another improvement.

Third, from Beacon to Limit, is 36 feet wide, much wider than the old blacktop road, while the two one-way drives are 30-feet wide, giving ample width for heavy traffic.

The park board plans on beautifying the parkway which exists between Third and the park road, which runs parallel, and it is said the Sedalia Garden Clubs will beautify the parking between the one-way drives from Limit to the Boulevard.

Will Kashmir Be Springboard For Red Conquest of India?

NEW DELHI (AP)—Will Kashmir becomes the Northern jumping-off point for Communist capture of this strategic subcontinent?

Most officials of Prime Minister Nehru's Indian government laugh off the suggestion that picturesque Kashmir, over which India and Pakistan have been disputing for five years, might become a home base for conquest-minded Reds.

But despite official unconcern, behind the scenes in New Delhi uneasiness has been growing over reports of Communist trends inside Kashmir India, which concluded a "limited accession" pact with Kashmir last April, is still top dog in the Himalayan state bordering both India and Pakistan. But Pakistan has not modified in the least her demands for the territory.

Reports of growing Communist influence on Kashmir are not viewed in the same light here and in Pakistan. A recent dispatch from Lahore, capital of Pakistan's big West Punjab province, quoted the provincial chief minister as saying he would willingly "become a Communist to get Kashmir for Pakistan."

"We would rather risk the Russian way of life than be reunited with India," said Mian Mumtaz Mohd Kahn Daultana, the West Punjab minister and strong man.

Daultana believes that Pakistan "is just not complete" without Kashmir, says that most Pakistanis blame the United States for the failure to solve the Kashmir deadlock in the United Nations, and declares that Pakistan will be friendly with whatever international bloc "helps us secure a fair settlement of the Kashmir issue."

Speculations in New Delhi about Kashmir Premier Sheikh Mohammed Abdullah's real international intentions have been growing for months. They started with the "limited accession" demands for powers not retained by other states in the Indian union.

Since then Indians have been saying privately they fear the Sheikh may be planning to line up with the Communist bloc after ilking dry Indian sources of economic aid. Many Indians watched testily last month when Kashmir received 100 million rupees (21 million dollars) for future economic development in addition to previous substantial grants.

Reports on Sheikh Abdullah's two top government colleagues have especially disturbed the Indians. Ghulam Mohammed Sadiq, president of the Kashmir Constituent Assembly, and Revenue Minister Mirza Beg have been attending Communist-sponsored "peace rallies" and loudly echoing Red charges the U. S. has been waging germ warfare in Korea. They also have warned "American imperialists" in the guise of U.N. personnel to leave Kashmir.

Now a spokesman for the Kashmir overnment as announced that Sadiq plans a trip to Moscow soon for a kidney operation. Indians are familiar with the treks Red leaders in various European countries have made to the Soviet capital, ostensibly for health reasons.

Critics of Sheikh Abdullah claim Communists have quietly slipped into powerful positions throughout the local governments in Kashmir through the co-operation of Beg and B. P. L. Bedi, long the Sheikh's righthand man.

The anti-Communists insist that Abdullah's original desire to keep the Reds from opposing his National Conference party has resulted in a tacit agreement with the Communists.

The official answer of the Abdullah government to these charges appears to be that Sadiq, Beg, and lesser Kashmir leaders known for their Red sympathies are merely intellectual fellow-travelers. National Conference leaders deny state and local party machinery has been infiltrated widely by the Reds, but have not backed up this denial with specific proof.

4-Hour, 4-Alarm Fire Causes $34,000 Loss In St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A four-alarm fire, which firemen battled for four hours, caused an estimated damage of more than $34,000 yesterday as it swept the plant of Salvage Wrecking and Supply Co. here.

Firemen rescued a 65-year-old paralyzed man from an adjoining building when the flames, fed by lumber and building materials, spread to other structures. Residents of a four-room home nearby, which also caught fire, escaped injury.

Taft Believes South Split Is Real Thing

CINCINNATI, (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft believes the split in the once-Solid South is a "real one," but doesn't foresee any southern Democratic leaders moving into the Republican party right away.

The .HIO Republican, commenting on Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's victory for the presidency, said he did not look for immediate assistance for Republicans in congress from persons like Price Daniel, the senator - elect from Texas who supported Eisenhower.

Taft said:

"I believe that this break in the ranks in the South is a real one. It is my opinion that they supported Eisenhower because he is a conservative—doesn't want to take over their schools, tidelands and that sort oft hing—but I do not expect any immediate move into our party by southern leaders.

Taft, who lost the GOP nomination to Eisenhower but then toured the country urging Eisenhower's election, hailed the general's victory as a repudiation of the fair deal, corruption and pro-Communism.

Taft indicated he would stay in his present position as head of the vital Senate Republican Policy Committee in cooperating with Eisenhower and the new Republican administration.

Asked if the president-elect might want him for a cabinet post, or that he might become senate majority floor leader, Taft said:

"I see no reason to change. As a matter of fact, that seems to be General Eisenhower's idea also. When he came to see me immediately after the nomination in Chicago, for instance, it was to ask my cooperation as leader in the Senate, not in the campaign."

The senior senator was asked about the program for the new Congress and replied, "that will be Eisenhower's."

He agreed, however, he and Eisenhower were in accord that the Republican goal should be a reduction of the budget to $70,000,000,000 in fiscal 1954, from present Also that the budget be cut to

Liberty Annexes Area Kansas City Wants as Airport

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — The Liberty City Council last night passed an ordinance annexing 6½ quare miles of land on which Kansas City had planned to build a 25 million dollar industrial airport.

Kansas City voters Tuesday rejected annexation of the 3,100 - acre airport site to that city.

The Liberty council moved quickly and unanimously in establishing claim to the area west and south of Liberty.

Citizens in an 8-square-mile area west of the airport site, which also was included in the Kansas City annexation proposal, already had filed a petition with the Clay County Court Monday to incorporate as a fourth class city.

Kansas City's Mayor William E. Kemp said Liberty's action "may mean that we will have to give up the airport site and select another somewhere in Jackson County."

Missouri Teachers Elect New Officers

KANSAS CITY, (AP) —The Missouri State teachers ssociation has picked its new crown prince —a first vice president who will automatically become president after the 1953 convention.

The association chose Philip J. Hickey, superintendent of St. Louis schools as first vice president.

Roy E. Taylor, superintendent of the Herculaneum schools 28 years, will be installed as president tomorrow. He as been first vice president the past year.

About 8,000 teachers are expected to attend general sessions of the 90th annual convention oday and tomorrow.

Others elected yesterday were John A. Clair of Kansas City and Miss Viola Brockfeld of Washington, Mo., vice presidents; Carl Henderson of Moberly and Joe Herndon of Raytown and John E. Evans Kansas City were re elected to the executive committee.

Hal Boyle's Column---

He Tells of Scene as Pope Gives Audience at Palace

By HAL BOYLE

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Italy, (AP) —You climb slowly up a road on a hill near Rome worn by the passage of endless thousands of pilgrim feet.

You pause at one of the little shops along the way and buy a few rosaries, a religious medal or two.

You step hastily through a gateway and find a place in the throng that packs the courtyard from wall to wall. It is an odd throng... whispering children, black-gowned ious from a dozen lands around Young students...rich people...poor people...the devout or merely curious from a doen lands around the world.

A sudden wave of silence washes over the dense throng. All eyes turn upward to a balcony. A door opens and a tall, elderly figure clad in white steps out.

There is a luminous quality to his spare, kindly face as he looks down and raises his hand in benediction. A cry torn spontaneously from hundreds of hearts rises in the bright sunshine:

"Il Papa! Il Papa!"

This is the scene as Pope Pius XII, born Eugenio Pacelli 76 years ago, gives audience at his summer palace as often as his health permits.

It is always a moment of tremendous pageantry as the faithful get their first glimpse of their ascetic, frugal-living scholar, living symbol and spiritual ruler of the 100,000,000 members of an ancient church.

Profoundly moving to Catholics, the experience also is deeply stirring to the scores of hundreds of protestants who attend to have as the white figure bends silently and flexes his fingers into his cupped palms in the Italian manner of waving—as if he were gathering to him the prayers wafted from the throng.

"Il Papa! Il Papa! Il Papa!"

A kind of hysteria sweeps the throng, growing rom throat o throat. Women begin to sob. In this shared tumult of exultation many stand at the religious peak of their lifetime.

The Pope, modern enough to use an electric razor, learned enough to speak half a dozen languages, stills the clamor with a raised hand. He has gone over the list of those present beforehand. A hush falls as he steeps to a microphone.

Group after group. . .nationality after nationality. . The Pope speaks to the pilgrims, welcoming each in its own tongue. It is a masterful demonstration by a master of linguistics.

Then Pius steps back, but the throng will not let himgo,crying, throng will not let him go, crying, "Il papa! Il papa! Il papa!"

Again he steps out, hushes them with his ultimate blessing, and again withdraws. The balcony door closes. The throng files slowly and quietly out, reluctant to let the mystic moment go.

religious mementoes blessed for Catholic friends back home.

"Il Papa! "Il Papa! Il Papa!"

The cries grow more clamorous

Scout Executive Speaks to Lions On Boys' Habits

The Sedalia Lions Club had as their speaker Wednesday noon L. E. "Red" Moody, Boy Scout executive from Jefferson City, who used as his subject, "Boys and Their Habits".

In his talk he told of the treatment boys should be given by the parents and explained habits of boys which should be tolerated by the parents and how to work with boys to make then better men and citizens in later years.

The speaker was introduced by Jim Langridge, program chairman for November.

President E. B. Smith, who presided, announced the board of directors meeting would be held at the hotel on Monday night, Nov. 10.

Bos to "Bossy"

The name "Bossy" was given to cows from their generic name of "Bos." Cattle, buffalo, and bison are all near-relatives, and come under this classification.

With Absentees, Ike May Carry Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Will Dwight D. Eisenhower be the first Republican since Herbert Hoover to carry traditionally Democratic Kentucky in a presidential election?

This was the most provocative question left unanswered today from Tuesday's general election, which saw the state elect a Republican senator and retain six Democrats to two Republicans in the House of Representatives.

It looked as if absentee ballots held the answer to whether Eisenhower or Stevenson would carry the state.

Returns from 4,011 of the state's 4,135 precincts gave:

Stevenson, 484,036; Eisenhower, 482,509.

The unaccounted for precincts were in territory apparently about equally divided between Stevenson and Eisenhower.

Jefferson County alone had 4,000 absentee ballots. Tabulation of these ballots began today.

Stone Age farmers used a sickle set with flint saw-teeth in harvesting grain, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Bob Thomas In Hollywood—

This Race Was Rugged? Ha! You Shoulda Seen That In 1828

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—So you think this election was a rugged one? You should have been around in 1828.

"The contest between Adlai Stevenson and Dwight D. Eisenhower was mild compared to other presidential races in the past," remarked Irving Stone, noted author and expert on presidential history.

"Of course, there was a lot of name-calling this year, particularly in the last two weeks. That happens in every election. By that time the campaigners are like automatons hurtling through space; they say things out of anger and fatigue that they really don't mean.

"But at least we have reached the point where wives are no longer brought into the arena for slaughter. The most shocking example of this was in the 1828 election between Andrew Jackson and John Quincy Adams."

Stone wrote a biography of Mrs. Jackson, called "The President's Lady." It has just been filmed with Susan Hayward and Charleton Heston as the Jacksons. The story tells how the 1828 campaign killed the President's wife.

"Henry Clay, who was running the Adams campaign, realized Jackson had tremendous popularity," said Stone. "Clay decided the only way to beat Jackson was through his wife."

Rachel Jackson had previously been married to a cruel landowner from whom she fled. She heard later that he had divorced her, and so she married Jackson. But the divorce was found to be incomplete, and her former husband then divorced her on grounds of adultery.

"Clay dug up the trial and publicized it throughout the country in newspapers and pamphlets," Stone recounted. "She was called 'adulteress' and worse. Copies of obscene songs about her were distributed on street corners. Jackson was called 'wife-stealer' by his opponents.

"Despite these efforts, Jackson won by an electoral vote of 178 to 83. But he lost his wife. As she was preparing to leave for the inauguration, she overheard two women calling her vile names. Already shunned by Nashville society and weakened by the attacks, she fell in a coma and died two days later."
